

'I'm Giving to the United Fund Again'—Here's Why

A survey of Pottstown residents indicated yesterday that there will be plenty of porch lights burning tonight when Boy Scouts make the "lights on" borough-wide canvass for the United Fund.

Housewives particularly showed a willingness to make a contribution to help send the United Fund soaring toward its goal in the last-night canvassing. The final report meeting will be held tomorrow.

One surprising thing uncovered by the survey was that most of those who say they'll contribute to the Fund tonight already have given to the drive.

For instance, Clarence Brunner, 107 Chestnut street, a telegraph operator for the Reading company, already has given through his company, and his wife already has given to a ward team worker but he said yesterday:

"The missus and I were just talking it over, and we decided we'll give 'em something again."

The United Fund, he said, "It's a good idea. They're circulating the money, not just giving it to a few people. They're putting the money to a good cause."

Mrs. Charles S. Medinger, 340 Lincoln avenue, said, "I'll give, if someone calls." She praised the United Fund because "It helps so many people who are in desperate need."

Mrs. Medinger was one of several housewives interviewed who had not been contacted by United Fund solicitors.

Mrs. Evelyn McHugh, 644 Chestnut street, said, "I thought I was going to give something."

Mrs. McHugh has good reason to know the value of community health and welfare services. She was a polio victim as a child.

She said, naturally, that the aspect of the United Fund most appealing to her was the work it does through member agencies to combat diseases such as heart ailments, cancer and arthritis and rheumatism.

Mrs. Ella Nettles, 12 East Third street, said, "I'm a widow and have pretty much to do to keep up with things myself. But if I feel I can do anything, I'll certainly do it."

Mrs. Anthony F. Rodgers, 1421 Cherry lane, said simply: "I'll have my light on. It's for a good cause. The people should give."

Another family that will be giving for the third time is that of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Rhoads, 1032 Warren street. "My husband gave at work, and there was a lady around and we gave something to her." She paused, then added, "I guess we can give a little more though."

Mrs. Rhoads favorite agency within the 26-member United Fund is the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Mary J. Powell, 66 South Charlotte street, said, "I've got my envelope out now. It will be filled, with what little I can afford."

Mrs. Powell, a widow, will make a contribution even

'Army' Award Thrills Little Bonneted Lady

By NORMAND POIRIER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

It was a very plain bonnet—no feathers or feminine frills.

But for 75-year-old Mrs. Mary Neiman, 442 Lincoln avenue, it was one of the most thrilling presents she had ever received.

The bonnet—along with a certificate—was a symbol that the more than 40 years of hard work Mrs. Neiman had contributed to help humanity had not gone unmarked by the world around her.

In something of an unusual and surprise ceremony, more than 150 "Army" members and officials paid homage to the little lady last night at the citadel.

In her long years of work, she had outlasted seven Salvation Army bonnets. Last night she received her eighth—free.

If the new hat was an indication that she would continue her work, an interview with her left no doubts about it.

"I love the work," the pint-sized (four-foot-ten) great-grandmother said, putting the accent on the word "love" as though she were suddenly re-excited at the thought of her labors.

THROUGH the past 40 or 45 years (she doesn't remember the exact year when she started) of her Salvation Army work, she has made hundreds of friends—many of whom she doesn't know by name—in Pottstown, Spring City, Royersford, Phoenixville and many other smaller communities in the area.

"No," she said thoughtfully, "I'm the only one left still working of those I started with."

The days she started working for the "Army" were a lot different from the present.

"Me and Mrs. Bernhard used to hitch up a team with horses and make the rounds driving the buggy to pick up clothes," she laughed.

One of the biggest seasons has always been the Thanksgiving-Christmas time.

"I remember we used to bring little cardboard boxes around to each house in Pottstown and leave them on the door. People would keep them on the dinner table and at each meal between the holidays put a penny in."

"Then we'd go out at Christmas time and pick them up, each of us."

Winter Disappears As Mercury Hits 64

An early Winter packed up his ice tongs and cough syrup in a portable frost bag and ran out of Pottstown like a frightened Red-skin yesterday.

The sun returned in all its brilliance and glory.

With the mercury bobbing to an afternoon high of 64 it was the hottest day since the Nov. 3 election—when GOP and Democratic blood pressures helped expand thermometers to 71.

Right after election things cooled off in a hurry.

THE FRIDAY after that fateful day, Winter blew into the borough with all the boastful arrogance of a man who never tasted defeat.

But yesterday he fled in shameful retreat—his power, at least temporarily stripped.

It was a bright day for the hunter; a good day for the beleaguered golfer to return to the links.

The high temperature was much closer to the Nov. 16 record high.

Local Figures Recall Socialism in Heyday

By ROBERT E. HOYER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

In the mellow lights of a few Pottstown parlors men who 40 years ago favored the new and controversial creed of Socialism today hold counsel on that turbulent era of political reformation.

Ask any 1953 school boy or school girl about the Socialist party and you will be rewarded with a negative and indeed an incredulous stare.

The Socialist party in Pottstown is not dead, but like an elder hemlock, which long ago attained maturity its sap and substance have drained into the forest which has thickened about it.

Evidence of former party stamina is preserved in the dusty returns of another election year, when Democrat John J. Klink, three-time Burgess, won by the thin majority of 165 votes over Socialist George Russell.

In the borough's Nov. 3 election Democrat William A. Griffith lost by 896 votes to Republican John B. Hartenstine Jr.

Today Pottstown's fading old guard of Socialism numbers only 14.

The light of the new creed glowed brightest in the early years of the 20th century.

FOR TWO terms 1908 to 1916 the popular Russell served on council from the Tenth ward. During one of those terms the late Socialist William Favinger represented the Seventh ward.

In 1908 Russell registered a 67-vote victory over Democrat Mark

Ex-Teacher Hospitalized

Mrs. Charlotte Van Buskirk, wife of J. Edgar Van Buskirk, 63 Walnut street, was admitted yesterday to Pottstown hospital, where she will undergo an operation.

Yesterday's first-day prize was won by a two-and-a-half-year-old lass, Cheryl Ann Stern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stern, 411 New street, Spring City.

The young girl was shopping with her mother when the picture was taken in the basement of the New York store.

Boys on Bicycle Collide With Car At Intersection

A pair of 13-year-old boys collided head-on with a turning car at Jefferson avenue and North Franklin street just before 6 o'clock last night.

Batty Rowe, of 123 Beech street, and David Foley, 449 Chestnut street, were discharged after examinations and treatment in Pottstown hospital dispensary.

They were riding double on the bicycle and rolled through the intersection into the turning car of George H. Hartman, 133 East Wilson street.

Hartman was making a left turn onto Jefferson avenue. The impact of the bike against the car threw open the right front door of Hartman's 1942 sedan.

Rowe was examined and no injuries were found. Foley was treated for a small puncture wound of the scalp and abrasion of the right leg.

Meal Proves Expensive For Four Area Men

A meal in a Reading restaurant proved more expensive to four area men than they had anticipated Sunday.

While the men were eating dinner, an unknown thief took all four topcoats from their car.

"We left the car unlocked, went in to eat, and when we came out the four coats were gone," said one of the victims.

The unlucky men are Edmund M. Kupecki, 8 West Fifth street, Michael Jacobs and Thomas Gray, also of Pottstown, and Joseph Karpenki, Phoenixville.

SCOUTS TO SEEK PORCH LIGHTS IN DRIVE CLIMAX

Final UF Effort to Begin at 6:30 o'Clock

Tonight's the night for Pottstown to turn on its porch light and brighten the lives of the families who'll be turning to the United Fund this year for a helping hand in illness or misfortune.

To give you a chance to do your fair share of giving, Pottstown Boy Scouts will canvass the entire borough tonight, beginning at 6:30.

If you want to make a first contribution, or if you want to make an addition to your original gift, just put your gift into the special red-printed envelope that was distributed with your copy of yesterday's Mercury.

Then turn on your porch light, or any other light at the front of your house.

BOY Scouts will be looking for your light and will pick up the envelope.

All gifts are welcome, large or small.

Plea for Added Funds Gets Early Response

An early response to the plea for additional United Fund donations came to The Mercury yesterday.

W. Irvin Hartenstine, retired Pottstownian who has been a faithful contributor of all Mercury funds, beat the gun by one day. Instead of waiting until tonight to give during the lights-on campaign, he brought a $25 check into The Mercury office.

Postoffice Plans Final Chance for United Fund Drive

Pottstown postoffice will give any borough families who might be missed by tonight's "lights on" canvass for the United Fund a final chance to join the community drive.

Postmaster J. Alfred Marquet announced yesterday that if you're missed by the Boy Scouts, all you have to do is this:

Put your contribution into the envelope with red printing on it that was distributed yesterday with The Mercury. Then take the envelope and either give it to the mailman or drop it into the nearest mail box.

That's all—you don't even have to address the envelope or put postage on it. The postoffice and the United Fund will take care of the rest.

Families living outside the borough can join the United Fund's last-day push by mailing their contribution in an ordinary, plain envelope to either the United Fund or to The Mercury.

Batty Rowe, of 123 Beech street, and David Foley, 449 Chestnut street, were discharged after examinations and treatment in Pottstown hospital dispensary.

They were riding double on the bicycle and rolled through the intersection into the turning car of George H. Hartman, 133 East Wilson street.

Hartman was making a left turn onto Jefferson avenue. The impact of the bike against the car threw open the right front door of Hartman's 1942 sedan.

Rowe was examined and no injuries were found. Foley was treated for a small puncture wound of the scalp and abrasion of the right leg.

Meal Proves Expensive For Four Area Men

A meal in a Reading restaurant proved more expensive to four area men than they had anticipated Sunday.

While the men were eating dinner, an unknown thief took all four topcoats from their car. "We left the car unlocked, went in to eat, and when we came out the four coats were gone," said one of the victims.

The unlucky men are Edmund M. Kupecki, 8 West Fifth street, Michael Jacobs and Thomas Gray, also of Pottstown, and Joseph Karpinski, Phoenixville.

SCOUTS TO SEEK PORCH LIGHTS IN DRIVE CLIMAX

Final UF Effort to Begin at 6:30 o'Clock

Tonight's the night for Pottstown to turn on its porch light and brighten the lives of the families who'll be turning to the United Fund this year for a helping hand in illness or misfortune.

To give you a chance to do your fair share of giving, Pottstown Boy Scouts will canvass the entire borough tonight, beginning at 6:30.

If you want to make a first contribution, or if you want to make an addition to your original gift, just put your gift into the special red-printed envelope that was distributed with your copy of yesterday's Mercury.

Then turn on your porch light, or any other light at the front of your house.

BOY Scouts will be looking for your light and will pick up the envelope.

All gifts are welcome, large or (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Plea for Added Funds Gets Early Response

An early response to the plea for additional United Fund donations came to The Mercury yesterday.

W. Irvin Hartenstine, retired Pottsonian who has been a faithful contributor of all Mercury funds, beat the gun by one day. Instead of waiting until tonight to give during the lights-on campaign, he brought a $25 check into The Mercury office.

Postoffice Plans Final Chance for United Fund Drive

Pottstown postoffice will give any borough families who might be missed by tonight's "lights on" canvass for the United Fund a final chance to join the community drive.

Postmaster J. Alfred Marquet announced yesterday that if you're missed by the Boy Scouts, all you have to do is this:

Put your contribution into the envelope with red printing on it that was distributed yesterday with The Mercury. Then take the envelope and either give it to the mailman or drop it into the nearest mail box.

That's all—you don't even have to address the envelope or put postage on it. The postoffice and the United Fund will take care of the rest.

Families living outside the borough can join the United Fund's last-day push by mailing their contribution in an ordinary, plain envelope to either the United Fund or to The Mercury.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

It's a "clannish" group of First graders they have at the St. Clair school this year, as you can easily see when you notice all the fancy plaids worn in this picture. Mrs. Charles Yocom, teacher, is a conservative dresser by contrast. Pupils in first row, left to right, are Louise Mayer, Nancy Cutillo, Betty Ann Myers, Virginia Ondo, Dorothy Steller, John Seyler, Florence Leskowicz and Dorothy Sepur. Second row, same order, Carol Kirk, Ronald Hegedus, Jean Seyler, Carol Swavely, Dennis Kocur, Joseph Tolt, Gail Edlinski and Sara Ann Gerhart. Third row, Diane Herbst, Louis Dunning, Larry Kirin, Brooke Olesch, Robert Thompson, Edna Eppler and Robert Lare. Fourth row, Yvonne Amole, George Stevens, Donald Hegedus, Carol Will, John Day, Sandra Pudline, and Robert Gregory. Not present when picture was taken, Roy Walton.

Sept. 1 to become head of the new Butler County Memorial hospital in Western Pennsylvania. Getting mixed up in big building is nothing new for Prescott because, as he put it, "At Williamsport, I landed just in time to break ground."

KEEPING track of Williamsport's four-year $2,225,000 building program was his particular job. "I got into that very early and very deep."

Another reason he's at home in a contractors' world is that he's mechanically minded. He enjoys climbing around scaffolding for talks with contractors, and now is setting up a workshop in the basement of his home at 1472 Sunset drive.

The inevitable noise and confusion of riveting and other building work is a bit of a problem at a hospital, Prescott conceded. He added, "The people in Pottstown have, from what I can learn, accepted that with an excellent spirit. And the staff has accepted it with an admirable good will."

(Prescott has accepted the confusion himself. While threading his way through a torn-up corridor of the old building, he stumbled briefly over a stray piece of lumber. Grinning, he said, "Remind me to have the contractor take that out in the morning.")

For the staff, which he started to meet yesterday, he had these reassuring words: "I have no intention of turning the place upside down." He noted that the organizational set-up at Pottstown hospital was almost identical to the one in Williamsport. Prescott also said, "I've been very much impressed with the friendliness of the town. I've received at least nine letters from individuals and organizations that wanted to welcome me. It was strictly red carpet."

A native of New England, Prescott still has a trace of New England accent in his speech. His wife also is from New England, and their two older children were born there.

The Prescotts' three children are David Dorr, 10, Eloise Haines, 6, and Paula Drew, 3. The older ones will attend Rupert school.

Prescott is a graduate of Bates college, Me., and holds a bachelor of science degree from Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., in hospital administration.

A veteran of World War II, Prescott is the son of a Baptist pastor.

Mrs. Carrie Shaner, 224 North Charlotte street, said, "I'll give a little something, yes."

CRASH VICTIM IN OXYGEN TENT

Hospital Reports Driver Remains in 'Poor' Condition

One victim of the violent two-car crash, which killed a Pottstown mother Saturday night, remained in "poor" condition at Pottstown hospital early this morning.

Walter C. Zimmerman, 28, Norristown, driver of a car which collided head-on with the auto occupied by a Pottstown family, was in an oxygen tent at the hospital this morning.

The three other victims of the crash were reported in "slightly improved and satisfactory" condition.

John L. Vogt, 43, of 39 West Fourth street, whose wife Geraldine, died from injuries suffered in the accident, was "slightly improved."

Marjorie Vogt, 9, youngest daughter of the dead woman, and Mrs. Patricia Seyler, 21, oldest daughter of 118 North Keim street, were reported in "satisfactory" condition.

The 1950 Vogt car collided head-on with another sedan operated by Zimmerman while heading south on Swamp pike, just below Gilbertsville in New Hanover township.

Pupils Can Occupy West End School by Nov. 30, Group Told

The new West End school should be ready for occupancy on Nov. 30, Horace Frederick, chairman of the school authority, announced after a meeting of the group last night.

"The contractor told us that the pupils could move in then," Frederick said.

School furniture will be moved into the building during Thanksgiving week.

The dedication ceremonies are still tentatively set for Dec. 9.

"We can't say definitely yet because there are still a few details to iron out," he said.

Other than the discussion about the school opening, Frederick said that only routine matters were taken up. Frederick presided.

Y. Hendricks, father of outgoing Democrat W. Mark Hendricks, who declined to run for re-election in the Nov. 3 balloting.

In 1912 Russell trounced Democrat Sylvester Moser by more than 200 votes.

Elmer Young, one-time Socialist stalwart, estimated party registration at its peak in excess of 300, proof that the big Socialist vote was gleaned from disgruntled Democrats and Republicans.

It's on cold winter nights best suited for thinking that old Socialists get that nostalgic gleam.

From out of the foggy, ribald past rumbles the stentorian voice of Eugene V. Debs, fighting father of Socialism.

Old party leaders remember the lean, dynamic Debs with his great echoing voice cry out from the stage of the old King street Opera house, "Fellow workers, the Socialist movement is as wide as the world."

Pottstown's oldest Socialists recall the founding of the party in 1897 and the labor strife which preceded its arrival on the American political stage.

IN 1894 Debs and three union leaders were imprisoned for six months on contempt of court charges — the aftermath of their strike action against the Pullman company, South Chicago.

Federal troops were directed to the scene by Democratic President Grover Cleveland against the protest of John Peter Altgeld, one of Illinois' most acclaimed governors.

Old Socialists remember the election of 1920, the last pre-suffrage election when candidate Debs polled nearly a million votes, his most remembered effort.

James Van Horn, 24 South Charlotte street, another member of the old guard, reports, "We used to have regular meetings at the Labor Lyceum (28 South Charlotte street), but they're only a memory now. It's been nearly a dozen years since we gathered there."

Debates on political theory and current issues used to ring out in the Lyceum corridors as a number of the borough's most profound thinkers tried to compose a better way to govern.

Van Horn attributes the declining Socialist influence to the New Deal administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

HE EXPLAINED, "The New Deal, I believe, had much to do with the waning appeal. The average worker today is making good wages and when men are well off financially they generally don't question political theory."

In 1924, the Socialists endorsed the candidacy of Progressive Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin.

LaFollette carried Wisconsin and thus became the only candidate ever endorsed by Socialism to win a state in a Presidential election.

In 1928, Norman Thomas, headed the ticket, which for so many years had been occupied by Debs.

Six times Thomas went to the post against major party opponents and six times he was washed to defeat. His best challenge fell short of a million ballots.

DR. THOMAS H. POWICK, long-time friend of the brilliant Thomas, narrowly missed election to Pottstown school board in the single political contest of his career.

Powick explained his interest in Socialism, "I joined the party for one year to help my old friend, Norman Thomas."

"I have always believed the principal function of the party was educational. It made the people think about the issues."

"The New Deal put across far more Socialist legislation than the party itself could have ever accomplished. I believe the contribution of minor parties has been and will remain educational."

In 1932, with Dwight Eisenhower sweeping the GOP back into national political leadership for the first time in 20 years, Socialism dropped to ebb tide.

Darlington Hoopes, Reading, a veteran of better party days, headed Socialist hopes against Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson. He collected less than 100,000 votes.

For the defeated candidate of a declining party Hoopes is surprisingly free of pessimism.

He invisions a reaction to what he terms the present "conservative surge" and like a patient philosopher of another century, he believes in the "better future"

which he probably won't live to see.

HOOPES, now chairman of the national party, explains it this way, "The influence of the Socialist party is far out of proportion to its registration or the voting strength it has attained."

"We're experiencing an extremely conservative trend. But I believe there surely will be a reaction to what is taking place in our time."

"Many of the ideas of the New Deal have been taken from the Socialist platform. We were the first party to endorse social security, labor legislation, public housing and child labor laws."

Hoopes was one of two Socialists to serve in the State legislature for three terms from 1930 to 1936.

During those years of change and influence Lilith Wilson, a Reading colleague, sat in the legislature with him.

From 1928 to 1932 and from 1936 to 1940 Socialists administrations directed the government of Reading.

Mayor J. Henry Stump won a third term from 1944 to 1948, but he failed to carry the party with him.

Socialists were not entirely striped of glory in the Nov. 3 elections.

IN BRIDGEPORT Conn., Mayor Jasper McLevy, led a party slate to another victory. In the sweeping triumph he won a clean majority over combined Republican and Democratic opponents.

The name McLevy threads through the political fabric of Bridgeport with the distinguished brilliance of Roosevelt in New York and Taft in Ohio.

In Milwaukee, once the prideful pinnacle of Socialism, Mayor Frank Zeidler, remains the last proof of former power. Socialism has declined in Pottstown and in just about every province of power.

About its future you can make no certain conclusions.

About its past you might say: It is one of the three oldest parties on the changing American political front. It has been more durable than any minor party in our history;

Socialism has influenced the policies of Democrats and Republicans. How history will evaluate the party is no known. But speculations have been made.

If, as Dr. Powick suggests, its contribution has been principally educational, then you might say history ultimately will pay its respects to the party and to the men who created it and fought for it.

Area Hunter Gets 217-Pound Buck

George Mitchell Fruitville road, Pottstown RD 4, was home yesterday with a 217-pound buck that he shot on a week-long hunting trip in the Maine woods.

He shot the eight-point buck at 50 yards on the next-to-last day of the trip. It took six shots to kill it.

Mitchell was accompanied on the trip by Alfred Bewley, owner of Bewley's sporting goods store, 121 High street, and George Miller, 465 North Evans street, who works for Doehler-Jarvis division.

The other two let small deer go by. Miller had one long shot at a bigger deer, but missed. The three men returned Sunday.

Y. Hendricks, father of outgoing Democrat W. Mark Hendricks, who declined to run for re-election in the Nov. 3 balloting.

In 1912 Russell trounced Democrat Sylvester Moser by more than 200 votes.

Elmer Young, one-time Socialist stalwart, estimated party registration at its peak in excess of 300, proof that the big Socialist vote was gleaned from disgruntled Democrats and Republicans.

It's on cold Winter nights best suited for thinking that old Socialists get that nostalgic gleam.

From out of the foggy, ribald past rumbles the stentorian voice of Eugene V. Debs, fighting father of Socialism.

Old party leaders remember the lean, dynamic Debs with his great echoing voice cry out from the stage of the old King street Opera house, "Fellow workers, the Socialist movement is as wide as the world..."

Pottstown's oldest Socialists recall the founding of the party in 1897 and the labor strife which preceded its arrival on the American political stage.

IN 1894 Debs and three union leaders were imprisoned for six months on contempt of court charges — the aftermath of their strike action against the Pullman company, South Chicago.

Federal troops were directed to the scene by Democratic President Grover Cleveland against the protest of John Peter Altgeld, one of Illinois' most acclaimed governors.

Old Socialists remember the election of 1920, the last pre-suffrage election when candidate Debs polled nearly a million votes, his most remembered effort.

James Van Horn, 24 South Charlotte street, another member of the old guard, reports, "We used to have regular meetings at the Labor Lyceum (28 South Charlotte street), but they're only a memory now. It's been nearly a dozen years since we gathered there."

Debates on political theory and current issues used to ring out in the Lyceum corridors as a number of the borough's most profound thinkers tried to compose a better way to govern.

Van Horn attributes the declining Socialist influence to the New Deal administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

HE EXPLAINED, "The New Deal, I believe, had much to do with the waning appeal. The average worker today is making good wages and when men are well off financially they generally don't question political theory."

In 1924, the Socialists endorsed the candidacy of Progressive Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin.

LaFollette carried Wisconsin and thus became the only candidate ever endorsed by Socialism to win a state in a Presidential election.

In 1928, Norman Thomas, headed the ticket, which for so many years had been occupied by Debs.

Six times Thomas went to the post against major party opponents and six times he was washed to defeat. His best challenge fell short of a million ballots.

DR. THOMAS H. Powick, long-time friend of the brilliant Thomas, narrowly missed election to Pottstown school board in the single political contest of his career.

Powick explained his interest in Socialism, "I joined the party for one year to help my old friend, Norman Thomas."

"I have always believed the principal function of the party was educational. It made the people think about the issues."

"The New Deal put across far more Socialist legislation than the party itself could have ever accomplished. I believe the contribution of minor parties has been and will remain educational."

In 1952, with Dwight Eisenhower sweeping the GOP back into national political leadership for the first time in 20 years, Socialism dropped to ebb tide.

Darlington Hoopes, Reading, a veteran of better party days, headed Socialist hopes against Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson. He collected less than 100,000 votes.

For the defeated candidate of a declining party Hoopes is surprisingly free of pessimism.

He invisions a reaction to what he terms the present "conservative surge" and like a patient philosopher of another century, he believes in the "better future"

which he probably won't live to see.

HOOPES, now chairman of the national party, explains it this way, "The influence of the Socialist party is far out of proportion to its registration or the voting strength it has attained."

"We're experiencing an extremely conservative trend. But I believe there surely will be a reaction to what is taking place in our time."

"Many of the ideas of the New Deal have been taken from the Socialist platform. We were the first party to endorse social security, labor legislation, public housing and child labor laws."

Hoopes was one of two Socialists to serve in the State legislature for three terms from 1930 to 1936.

During those years of change and influence Lilith Wilson, a Reading colleague, sat in the legislature with him.

From 1928 to 1932 and from 1936 to 1940 Socialists administrations directed the government of Reading.

Mayor J. Henry Stump won a third term from 1944 to 1948, but he failed to carry the party with him.

Socialists were not entirely striped of glory in the Nov. 3 elections.

IN BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Mayor Jasper McLevy, led a party slate to another victory. In the sweeping triumph he won a clean majority over combined Republican and Democratic opponents.

The name McLevy threads through the political fabric of Bridgeport with the distinguished brilliance of Roosevelt in New York and Taft in Ohio.

In Milwaukee, once the prideful pinnacle of Socialism, Mayor Frank Zeidler, remains the last proof of former power. Socialism has declined in Pottstown and in just about every province of power.

About its future you can make no certain conclusions.

About its past you might say: It is one of the three oldest parties on the changing American political front. It has been more durable than any minor party in our history;

Rapidity does not always mean progress, and hurry is akin to waste.
—C. A. Stoddard.

Button Up Your Overcoat!

DON'T be fooled by this return of Indian Summer weather! November's wiles are perfidious. It's early snows and now its pleasant zephyrs may play havoc with the person who's taken in by the treachery!

Watch yourself, because doctors say a virus infection will catch up with one out of every two Pottstowners this Winter.

You may greet this prediction with mixed feelings. To some, "the virus" conjures up a sinister power, an untouchable thing verging on an evil spirit. To others it's a glamor agent, something fashionable to have and talk about. To scientists, it's a mystery to be dispelled.

The varied attitudes among the public is understandable since science itself has begun to pick up threads of information only in the last 15 years and especially since World War II.

In wartime Army camps, there were many outbreaks of pneumonia. But it wasn't like ordinary lung pneumonia caused by the well-known pneumococcus germ. This led to the designation, "primary atypical pneumonia."

Scientists now know this kind of pneumonia is caused by a virus, although they haven't yet isolated it.

Virus Pneumonia has thus joined the flu, cold and gripe as the four commonly known virus infections you are likely to get at this time of the year.

Because all four hit the upper respiratory tract (nose, throat, larynx and trachea), they often bring similar symptoms. It's difficult for a doctor to tell which of the four you've got.

Just why these viruses are most active at this time of the year is not yet understood.

It may be due to the individual's inability to adapt himself to changing weather or it may be that the virus itself changes into a tougher form.

But there are several ways to avoid the flu germ. Cheat it this way:

1. Avoid overfatigue.
2. Avoid exposure to those ill.
3. If you feel a cold coming on, take your temperature. If you have a fever, call your doctor and go to bed.
4. Avoid chilling. Do not sit in a warm room with wraps on and walk outside perspiring.
5. Be moderate in all things.

Spread Between Beef Prices

SOMETHING of a clamor has arisen concerning the spread between the price cattle sell for on the hoof and the price the housewife must pay for cuts of beef at the butcher shop. The Secretary of Agriculture has ordered an examination of the matter.

Spokesmen for the meat packers have announced that they welcome the Secretary's action. And they have good reason too—for once the facts are known, and the misinformation now current is exposed, all concerned will be better off.

An excellent explanation of the cause of the spread recently appeared in the New Ulm, Minnesota, Daily Journal, under the by-line of Bob Christianson.

He wrote: "Because some cattle can be bought for 10 cents a pound from the farmer and some beef sells at a buck a pound to the consumer, politicians immediately try to make a big deal out of it. Sure, some beef sells at a buck a pound and some beef prices are as low as 10 cents, but the two certainly aren't related.

"Only five percent, or 50 pounds of a 1000 pound steer, is sirloin steak, which commands the higher prices. What the politicians are doing is comparing the price paid for every pound of a cull animal on the farm with the price the housewife pays for the choicest cut of choice animals. It just isn't good reasoning.

"It all boils down to this—part of a beef animal may sell above the 50 cents per pound mark, and part of it may be selling for as little as three cents a pound. Average all out and you'll find about a 25 cent spread between the price paid on the farm and the average price paid in the butcher shop."

Elsewhere in his discussion, Mr. Christianson pointed out that "the average meat packer makes less than a one-cent profit on 'very buck's worth of meat he sells.' There's 'redly room for profiteering there!'

PUNKIN CORNERS,
November 16,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson, who has been under fire from tillers of the soil, is making a five-day farm area tour. I understand the purpose is not solely to see if the frost is on the pumpkin.

A retired British naval officer was charged with spanking his wife because she insisted on keeping 14 cats for pets. She should have known there's nothing like cats to rouse the ire of an old sea-dog!

And say: Seasonal note: Nothing feels better than that first deep breath taken through the nose as a head cold breaks up! Hopin' you air the same,

Need Sub-Postoffice; Keep Dec. 25 Sacred

Postal Facilities Asked

To the Editor: Upon leaving Reading recently, I saw a sub-postoffice; not a sub-station. That is just what Pottstown needs, plus the present postoffice.

Pottstown has grown. The North End is a suburb. One bank, after a merger, expanded east and west. The North End would be a suitable location for a sub-postoffice. Sure would eliminate the congestion at High and Washington streets.

A town of this size should have more than one sub-station and that is in the business area, too.

If the present postoffice had a hose turned on the inside, better ventilation, I feel the refreshing would stir the employees to work better and faster. Some fairly crawl along.

After all this time, they should have the "hang of the job" and then gain a little speed.

FOR BETTER POTTSTOWN

One Day of Peace

To the Editor: Since Christmas will soon be here, and we already are reminded of it in many tawdry ways, is it too much to hope it will be free of radio commercials? Christmas is the one day of the 365 that we prate about as being sacred. But none has been since that radio blaring began.

So many of these harsh-voiced yak-yakkers bring vividly to mind the picture of a small boy excitedly jumping up and down and yelling, "Come on, come on! Here's a dog fight!"

May we have relief on this One Day?

May we hope they won't commercialize our sacred hymns?

WASHINGTON

Ike Wonders Wistfully If Army Life Was Better

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Dwight D. Eisenhower has voiced his disillusionment over Presidential realities and difficulties to numerous personal friends, especially to former military buddies.

Wayward gossip resulting from these confidences has inspired premature and unsupported reports that he will not seek a second term, and is grooming Vice President Richard M. Nixon as understudy.

Like so many more humble ex-GIs now faced with civilian responsibilities—a wife, children, illness, a mortgage, monthly bills—like reflects grimacing but ruefully that "I never had it so good as when I was in the service."

Then, he could lay his burden on Uncle Sam, as represented by Washington officialdom and the American people. They gave him his orders—namely, win the war—money was no object, and they paid the bills. Now, he is Uncle Sam.

OPPOSITION POWERFUL: But what bewilders Ike is the opposition he faces from the same powerful Republican interests and voting elements which elected him because he promised to do the very things for which they now condemn him.

A newcomer to the political scene, he took their pre-election suggestions seriously, incorporating them in his campaign speeches, his inaugural address and his legislative program.

Now, poor Ike begins to wonder whether the Party bosses and the 33,000,000 people who marked an X opposite his name the past November really wanted a "change." His off-the-record description of his dilemma would be comical, if it were not so pathetic and puzzling to him.

He recalls that his major pledge was to restore economic stability and to check inflation by giving us an "honest dollar." Although he dangled the lure of tax reductions, he demanded budget balancing before pocketbook relief in his message on the State of the Union.

But even his banker friends complained that he was making money "too tight" and stifling profitable loans, when he promoted an increase in all interest rates. So, he had to switch to an "easy money" program for their sake.

ISSUES IKE WON: His opposition to immediate tax cuts and demand for extension of the excess-profits levy brought him into conflict with Rep. Daniel A. Reed, chairman of the House ways and means committee. Although a majority of Capitol Hill GOPers sided with "Dan," White House pressure enabled Ike to win on both issues. But now the Party bigwigs blame these deferred hopes for the losses in the Nov. 3 elections.

Ike was informed on the most reliable politico-economic authority that the farmers resented Federal subsidies because it meant Government regimentation and management of their business. They preferred to "stand on their own feet," they were proud for him to know. Therefore, he intimated that he favored "more flexible" parity supports (smaller subsidies, that is), and restoration of more normal marketing operations.

For a while the people rejoiced over the truce in Korea, with the end to fighting and casualty lists. But now they grumble that this is the first war Uncle Sam failed to win. They apparently expected the Communist forces to collapse as soon as Ike stepped across the White House threshold.

Parking Problem

To the Editor: The $64 question is—to park or not to park (legally)?

I live on North Franklin street and up until a few weeks ago I was allowed to park in front of my own home.

Then some Jackson college brain put up no parking signs and I spent $22 for stones to cover my nice vegetable garden—I had to park some place.

Now the posts are still standing, but the signs are off.

What goes? Did the Hallowe'eners take them down or what?

How in the heck am I going to be a respectable law-abiding citizen when our lawmakers don't know their ABC's from a hole in the ground?

And how do our poor cops know when and where to give out no parking tickets, and we the tax-paying and salary-paying citizens know when and where to park (legally).

I voted for a change.

Too bad they can't take over until January.

Sick of Wailing

To the Editor: If all farmers know as little about the world and life as "Wife" ("The Forgotten Farmer," Readers Say, Nov. 13) I can readily see why they are having a hard time getting along and need subsidies from the Government, which in reality is subsidies from the industrial worker.

She weeps and wails that the farmer only gets 45 cents out of the dollar while the processors get 55 cents.

Do you know Mrs. Farmer that the average markup in a retail store on industrial goods is 30 percent?

That is a conservative estimate. I hope you can see when transportation etc., is added to this that the worker who produces the goods also pays for the processing of the goods which he produces.

What do the farmers want?

The wholesalers, deliverymen, retail stores and everybody connected with the business of handling their product to work for nothing and to pay their overhead out of their own pocket and then return the entire dollar to the farmer? I'm sick of the wailing farmers.

Death Penalty Asked

To the Editor: I think that a death penalty should be made law for anyone committing rape, especially that type crime on children.

We give the death penalty for murder. Why don't we have the death penalty for rapists? After all, the crime must be horrifying enough and no telling what such an act does to the minds of innocent young children.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HAROLD M. is the immature husband mentioned in yesterday's case record.

He wanted to carouse around and "have fun," though he had a very attractive wife, plus three dandy youngsters.

We psychologists have long pointed out the fact that marriage and parenthood are games, just like football or baseball. They have certain rules.

All good players follow the rules. In football, games are lost because of offside penalties and other violations.

In marriage, divorces occur and children become delinquent because parents likewise violate the basic rules.

"But what is the test of a good American Dad?" you may inquire.

HE BECOMES A pal of his children. He plays with them frequently—not just once a year during his Summer vacation!

He sets them a good example in his own personal behavior. That means he doesn't drink or curse or gamble or beat up his wife or flaunt his unfaithfulness regarding other women.

Instead, he endorses moral causes, such as the Boy Scouts, the YMCA, Camp Fire Girls, and Sunday school.

Preferably, he should go to church with his youngsters. But at least he should not obstruct his wife's conscientious efforts to train the children in church attendance.

A good American Dad shows his offspring that he not only loves them, but that he loves their mother, too.

This doesn't mean that he never argues or "yells" at them occasionally, or never quarrels with their mother, for such emotional explosions occur in the best regulated families.

BUT AFTER THE smoke has cleared away, he apologizes. How many of you fathers reading this case record today ever apologized to your children or even to your wife in their presence?

Children crave emotional security. That means they want to know you love them. They'll forgive and forget your sharp words if you will conclude the day with a pat on the back and a hug, plus a goodnight kiss to your children.

And they like to see you take your wife on a movie date occasionally, even though they protest at being left behind. For it reassures youngsters to know that "Daddy still loves Mother and vice versa!"

to acquire it and star in a cinema version. Andy McIntyre flew in from Hollywood just to catch Helen O'Connell's singing act on a couple of Perry Como shows. Andy adores singers; he once was married to Marilyn Maxwell. Peter Arnell of CBS has acquired a genuine Van Gogh—Barbara Van Gogh, that is.

Hollywood

By DON HOPE

While Miss Gwynn is on vacation, her column is being conducted by Don Hope.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16.—Donna Reed, who always played nice girls till she essayed her best role, that of a tramp in "From Here to Eternity," is in for a disappointment when she returns from Detroit where she's participating in a charity drive.

Donna had hopes of joining her producer-husband, Tony Owen in England, where he is completing "Duel in the Jungle"—and spending the Christmas holidays there. But Columbia is putting her into "The Wood Hawk" almost immediately. The girl from "Eternity" will have as her co-star young Robert Francis, who has recently completed the part of Ensign Willie Keith in "The Caine Mutiny."

"Wood Hawk" will be filmed in technicolor and it's a story about a scandal at an Army post in Texas shortly after the Civil War.

WALTER GROSS, who composed "Tenderly" is causing a great deal of comment and worry on the part of his friends, by the way he's trying to drown his troubles lately. His woe is attributed to the weight of the torch he's carrying. . . . Marge and Gower Champion, who have completed rehearsals for the dance numbers they'll do in "My Sister Eileen," have gone to New York for a short vacation. The picture, which will star Judy Holiday at Columbia, is still without an "Eileen"—and won't start until after the first of the year.

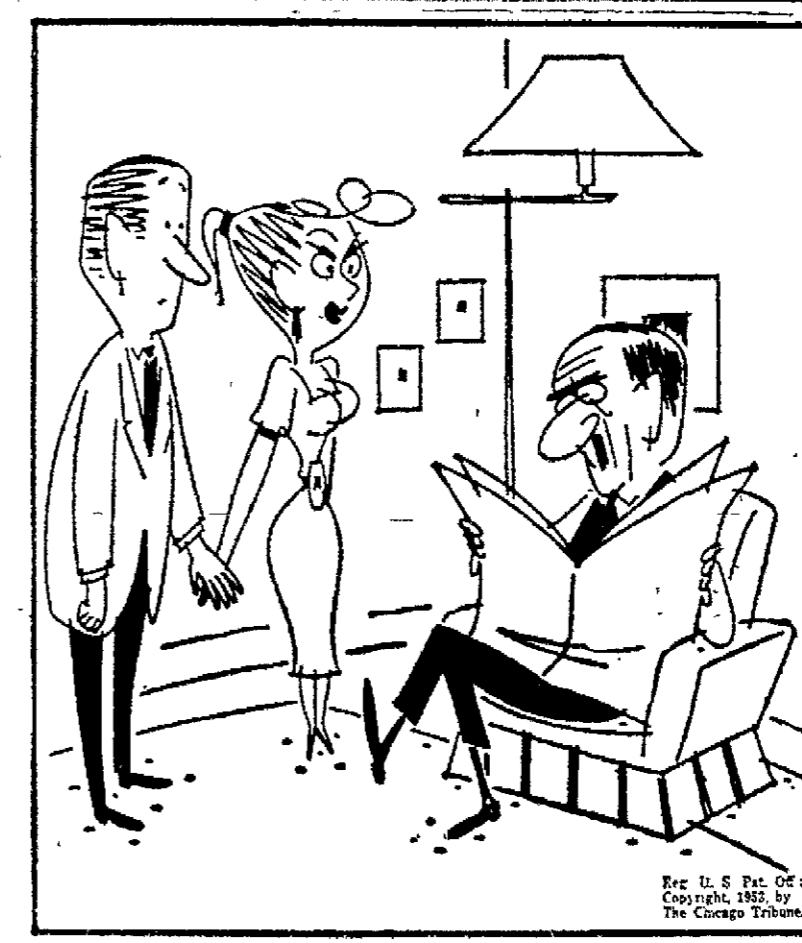

AT PARAMOUNT the other day they recorded the song, "White Christmas" for the picture of the same name—and considered it such a sentimental occasion that the set was closed to all but the performers and crew. Robert Emmer Dolan, the producer of the film, went on the podium and himself conducted the 56 piece orchestra—but no "outside" gawkers heard or watched as Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Rosemary Clooney and Vera-Ellen lifted their voices to chorus the song. . . . At Paramount too, they were building an entire New York city block, to be used as a set for "The Rear Window," in which Jimmy Stewart will star, Grace Kelley, who bowed out of the femme lead in "Window" the past week, will play opposite Stewart after all. Unless she changes her mind AGAIN!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—Birthday greetings are due today to Waldo Pierce, artist; Mischa Auer and Frank Fay, actors; Mike Garcia, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, and Joe Hatten, baseball pitcher.

The only trouble is that Lawyer Suchoza will have to postpone his law-yring! He's in the Army now! Private Suchoza entered the armed services Oct. 6, now is stationed at Aberdeen, Md., where he is taking basic training. He was graduated from Pottstown High school, then got his degree at Ursinus college, and finally received his law degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Suchoza took the State bar exams in July. . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. Brooke Walt, 43 East Fourth street, took time out from Pottstown's early November snows to visit sunny Mexico. They're on a 10-day vacation, recently visited the cathedral in Acapulco.

AUTHOR—ROBERT H. SHOEMAKER, a Pottstowner, who served his newspaper apprenticeship on The Mercury after his graduation from Penn State, is author of a second book. Now on the editorial staff of This Week magazine, Shoemaker has written "Famous Football Players," a tome to be published soon. Shoemaker also is the author of "The Best in Baseball," which he wrote a few years ago. . . . CHARLES GILLILAND, son of MR. AND MRS. C. A. GILLILAND, 677 North Keim street, now is attending the electronics school at Lowry Air Force base, Denver, Colo., after completing his basic training at Sampson AF base, Geneva, N.Y. He was graduated from Pottstown Senior High school the past June.

NEW BUSINESS—Robert K. Pensyl, 25, of 244 Lee avenue, and 29-year-old Joseph C. Miller, 1466 Cherry lane, are going into business for themselves, as partners in the S.O.S. TV Appliance and Service company at 382 North Charlotte street, where LeBonnet hat shop had been. Miller was born and raised in Pottstown and attended Pottstown Senior High school. Pensyl came here from Shamokin. Both men worked in the appliance department of Levitz Furniture company—Pensyl for 4½ years; Miller, for 6½ years. . . . Pic. John R. Hallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hallman, Summerytown, has been graduated from the non-commissioned officer academy in Korea.

JUNE IN NOVEMBER—Just forget about that snowstorm of November 6. It's really June and the radishes are up and there's garden lettuce for the table! At least that's the case in EMMA BRUNNER'S Spring City RD 1 garden. She found the early snowstorm hadn't harmed the garden vegetables. . . . A pipe manufacturer is now bringing out two new types of pipes designed especially to appeal to the ladies, who, incidentally, buy 70 percent of all pipes sold. . . . New slant on the vacation greeting: "The scenery is here. Wish you were beautiful."

★ ENSIGN—There's a new Pottstown ensign in Uncle Sam's Navy! He's Harold L. Smale, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Smale, 647 North Charlotte street, who was commissioned an ensign when he graduated with the 13th class of former enlisted men at the Navy's Newport, R.I. officer candidate school. Ensign Smale has a lot of 13s in his record. He was graduated from Ursinus college with a bachelor of arts degree with the class of 1953, then enlisted July 13 in the Navy. He was graduated from officers' school on Nov. 13! He has two sisters, Hazel, who's receptionist for Dr. Jesse Hafer, 535 High street, and Mary Alice, who's a Sophomore at Kutztown State teachers college. The ensign plans to go into the printing business when his enlistment's up in three years. . . . GIVE AWAY DEPT.—Four kittens, male and female, Mrs. Lewis Swartz, 425 May street, Phone 1260-J.

Rapidity does not always mean progress, and hurry is akin to waste.
—C. A. Stoddard.

But on Up Your Overcoat!

DON'T be fooled by this return of Indian Summer weather! November's wiles are perfidious. It's early snows and now its pleasant zephyrs may play havoc with the person who's taken in by the treachery!

Watch yourself, because doctors say a virus infection will catch up with one out of every two Pottstowners this Winter.

You may greet this prediction with mixed feelings. To some, "the virus" conjures up a sinister power, an untouchable thing verging on an evil spirit. To others it's a glamor agent, something fashionable to have and talk about. To scientists, it's a mystery to be dispelled.

The varied attitudes among the public is understandable since science itself has begun to pick up threads of information only in the last 15 years and especially since World War II.

In wartime Army camps, there were many outbreaks of pneumonia. But it wasn't like ordinary lung pneumonia caused by the well-known pneumococcus germ. This led to the designation, "primary atypical pneumonia."

Scientists now know this kind of pneumonia is caused by a virus, although they haven't yet isolated it.

Virus pneumonia has thus joined the flu, cold and grippe as the four common known virus infections you are likely to get at this time of the year.

Because all four hit the upper respiratory tract (nose, throat, larynx and trachea), they often bring similar symptoms. It's difficult for a doctor to tell which of the four you've got.

Just why these viruses are most active at this time of the year is not yet understood.

It may be due to the individual's inability to adapt himself to changing weather or it may be that the virus itself changes into a tougher form.

But there are several ways to avoid the flu germ. Cheat it this way:

1. Avoid overfatigue.
2. Avoid exposure to those ill.
3. If you feel a cold coming on, take your temperature. If you have a fever, call your doctor and go to bed.
4. Avoid chilling. Do not sit in a warm room with wraps on and walk outside perspiring.
5. Be moderate in all things.

Spread Between Beef Prices

SOMETHING of a clamor has arisen concerning the spread between the price cattle sell for on the hoof and the price the housewife must pay for cuts of beef at the butcher shop. The Secretary of Agriculture has ordered an examination of the matter.

Spokesmen for the meat packers have announced that they welcome the Secretary's action. And they have good reason too—for once the facts are known, and the misinformation now current is exposed, all concerned will be better off.

An excellent explanation of the cause of the spread recently appeared in the New Ulster, Minnesota, Daily Journal, under the by-line of Bob Christianson.

He wrote: "Because some cattle can be bought for 10 cents a pound from the farmer and some beef sells at a buck a pound to the consumer, politicians immediately try to make a big deal out of it. Sure, some beef sells at a buck a pound and some beef prices are as low as 10 cents, but the two certainly aren't related.

"Only five percent, or 50 pounds of a 1000 pound steer, is sirloin steak, which commands the higher prices. What the politicians are doing is comparing the price paid for every pound of a cull animal on the farm with the price the housewife pays for the choicest cut of choice animals. It just isn't good reasoning.

"It all boils down to this—part of a beef animal may sell above the 50 cents per pound mark, and part of it may be selling for as little as three cents a pound. Average all out and you'll find about a 25 cent spread between the price paid on the farm and the average price paid in the butcher shop."

Elsewhere in his discussion, Mr. Christianson pointed out that "the average meat packer makes less than a one-cent profit on every buck's worth of meat he sells." There's hardly room for profiteering there!

Postal Facilities Asked
To the Editor: Upon leaving Reading recently, I saw a sub-postoffice; not a sub-station. That is just what Pottstown needs, plus the present postoffice.
Pottstown has grown. The North End is a suburb. One bank, after a merger, expanded east and west. The North End would be a suitable location for a sub-postoffice. Sure would eliminate the congestion at High and Washington streets.

A town of this size should have more than one sub-station and that is in the business area, too.

If the present postoffice had a hose turned on the inside, better ventilation, I feel the refreshing would stir the employees to work better and faster.
Some fairly crawl along.

After all this time, they should have the "hang of the job" and then gain a little speed.

WASHINGTON

Ike Wonders Wistfully If Army Life Was Better

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—Dwight D.
Eisenhower has voiced his disillusionment over Presidential realities and difficulties to numerous personal friends, especially to former military buddies.

Wayward gossip resulting from these confidences has inspired premature and unsubstantiated reports that he will not seek a second term, and is grooming Vice President Richard M. Nixon as understudy.

Like so many more humble ex-GIs now faced with civilian responsibilities—a wife, children, illness, a mortgage, monthly bills—like reflects grinningly but ruefully that "I never had it so good as when I was in the service."

Then, he could lay his burden on Uncle Sam, as represented by Washington officialdom and the American people. They gave him his orders—namely, win the war—money was no object, and they paid the bills. Now, he is Uncle Sam.

OPPOSITION POWERFUL: But what bewilders Ike is the opposition he faces from the same powerful Republican interests and voting elements which elected him because he promised to do the very things for which they now condemn him.

A newcomer to the political scene, he took their pre-election suggestions seriously, incorporating them in his campaign speeches, his inaugural address and his legislative program.

Now, poor Ike begins to wonder whether the Party bosses and the 33,000,000 people who marked an X opposite his name the past November really wanted a "change." His off-the-record description of his dilemma would be comical, if it were not so pathetic and puzzling to him.

He recalls that his major pledge was to restore economic stability and to check inflation by giving us an "honest dollar." Although he dangled the lure of tax reductions, he demanded budget balancing before pocketbook relief in his message on the State of the Union.

But even his banker friends complained that he was making money "too tight" and stifling profitable loans, when he promoted an increase in all interest rates. So, he had to switch to an "easy money" program for their sake.

ISSUES LIKE WON: His opposition to immediate tax cuts and demand for extension of the excess-profits levy brought him into conflict with Rep. Daniel A. Reed, chairman of the House ways and means committee. Although a majority of Capitol Hill GOP-ers sided with "Dan," White House pressure enabled Ike to win on both issues. But now the Party bigwigs blame these deferred hopes for the losses in the Nov. 3 elections.

Ike was informed on the most reliable politico-economic authority that the farmers resented Federal subsidies because it meant Government regimen-tation and management of their business.
They preferred to "stand on their own feet," they were proud for him to know.
Therefore, he intimated that he favored "more flexible" parity supports (smaller subsidies, that is), and restoration of more normal marketing operations.

For a while the people rejoiced over the truce in Korea, with the end to fighting and casualty lists. But now they grumble that this is the first war Uncle Sam failed to win. They apparently expected the Communist forces to collapse as soon as Ike stepped across the White House threshold.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HAROLD M. is the immature husband mentioned in yesterday's case record.

He wanted to carouse around and "have fun," though he had a very attractive wife, plus three dandy youngsters.

We psychologists have long pointed out the fact that marriage and parenthood are games, just like football or baseball. They have certain rules.

And all good players follow the rules.
In football, games are lost because of offside penalties and other violations.

In marriage, divorces occur and children become delinquent because parents likewise violate the basic rules.

"But what is the test of a good American Dad?" you may inquire.

HE BECOMES A pal of his children.
He plays with them frequently—not just once a year during his Summer vacation!

He sets them a good example in his own personal behavior. That means he doesn't drink or curse or gamble or beat up his wife or flaunt his unfaithfulness regarding other women.

Instead, he endorses moral causes, such as the Boy Scouts, the YMCA, Camp Fire Girls, and Sunday school.

Preferably, he should go to church with his youngsters. But at least he should not obstruct his wife's conscientious efforts to train the children in church attendance.

A good American Dad shows his offspring that he not only loves them, but that he loves their mother, too.

This doesn't mean that he never argues or "yells" at them occasionally, or never quarrels with their mother, for such emotional explosions occur in the best regulated families.

BUT AFTER THE smoke has cleared away, he apologizes. How many of you fathers reading this case record today ever apologized to your children or even to your wife in their presence?

Children crave emotional security.
That means they want to know you love them. They'll forgive and forget your sharp words if you will conclude the day with a pat on the back and a hug, plus a goodnight kiss to your children.

And they like to see you take your wife on a movie date occasionally, even though they protest at being left behind.
For it reassures youngsters to know that "Daddy still loves Mother and vice versa!"

Sick of Wailing

To the Editor: If all farmers know as little about the world and life as "Wife" ("The Forgotten Farmer," Readers Say, Nov. 13) I can readily see why they are having a hard time getting along and need subsidies from the Government, which in reality is subsidies from the industrial worker.

She weeps and wails that the farmer only gets 45 cents out of the dollar while the processors get 55 cents.

Do you know Mrs. Farmer that the average markup in a retail store on industrial goods is 30 percent?

That is a conservative estimate. I hope you can see when transportation etc., is added to this that the worker who produces the goods also pays for the processing of the goods which he produces.

What do the farmers want?

The wholesalers, deliverymen, retail stores and everybody connected with the business of handling their product to work for nothing and to pay their overhead out of their own pocket and then return the entire dollar to the farmer?
I'm sick of the wailing farmers.

Death Penalty Asked

To the Editor: I think that a death penalty should be made law for anyone committing rape, especially that type crime on children.

We give the death penalty for murder. Why don't we have the death penalty for rapists? After all, the crime must be horrifying enough and no telling what such an act does to the minds of innocent young children.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16—Donna

Donna had hopes

England, where he is completing

But Columbia is putting her into "The Wood

immediately. The girl from "Eternity" will have as her co-star young Robert Francis, who has recently completed the part of Ensign Willie Keith in "The be filmed in technicolor and it's a story about a scandal at an Army post in Texas shortly after the Civil War.

WALTER GROSS, who composed "Tenderly" is causing a great deal of comment and worry on the part of his friends, by the way he's trying to drown his troubles lately. His wife is attributed to the weight of the torch he's carrying. . .
Marge and Gower Champion, who have completed rehearsals for the dance numbers they'll do in "My Sister Eileen," have gone to New York for a short vacation. The picture, which will star Judy Holliday at Columbia, is still without an

AT PARAMOUNT the other day they recorded the song, "White same name — and considered it such a sentimental occasion that the set was closed to all but the performers and crew. Robert Em-met Dolan, the producer of the film, went on the podium and himself conducted the 56 piece orchestra—but no "outside" gawkers heard or watched as Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Rosemary Clooney and Vera-Ellen lifted their voices to chorus the song. . . . At Paramount too, they were building an entire New York city block, to be used as a set for "The Rear Window," in which Jimmy Stewart will star, Grace Kelly, who bowed out of the femme lead in "Window" the past week, will play opposite Stewart after all. Unless she changes her mind AGAIN!

Activities Show Pottstown Boy Scouts Are Outdoor - minded During Winter

By NORMAN REED (Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown Boy Scouts are as outdoor-minded as ever these winter days.

Many arrived at troop meetings, last night fresh from weekend camping or Sunday afternoon hikes. Others planned future outings.

Transfiguration Lutheran Troop 16 added interest to its hike to Ringing Rocks on Sunday by making it a tracking and trailing contest.

David Miller's patrol hit the trail first, leaving rustic stone and twig markers along the way.

THE second patrol, led by Luther Rife Jr., started out 20 minutes later, following the trail markers across the fields to Ringing Hill.

At the Rocks both patrols gathered to cook an evening meal over the campfire.

Scouts who took part in the outdoor exploit were Rife, Miller, Donald Yocom, Michael Miller, Robert Penman, William and Harvey "Skip" Weiser, Lee Buchert, Michael Konabroski, William Hampton and Dan Stetler.

Samuel Mauger, assistant scoutmaster, was in charge. Second in command was Richard Overdorf, explorer adviser.

GRACE Lutheran Troop 15 sent six of its Scouts to Camp Delmont, near Sunnyside, for the junior leaders training course held there over the weekend.

Scoutmaster Leonard Yerger, who was in charge of the Troop 15 Scouts, said that 20 troops from 10 districts were represented at the outdoor conference.

Last night the troop planned a weekend camp it will hold at Hopewell park on Saturday and Sunday.

TWO other troops that talked hiking and camping last night were First Methodist Troop 4 and St. James Lutheran Troop 18.

The Troop 4 Scouts planned a hike for Nov. 29, when they will set out for Chestnut hill and Falls of French Creek.

Troop 18 Scouts discussed the clothing and equipment best suited to hiking, and Scoutmaster Edward W. Jamieson explained safety precautions for the trail.

Candidate Scouts Robert Boardman and Lane Daylor received their registration cards at the meeting.

ZION'S Reformed Troop 5 Scouts discussed mapmaking at their meeting.

The troop is planning to put up a large map of Pottstown in its meeting room, with the location of each Scout's home indicated by a colored tack.

American Legion Troop I worked on merit badge requirements and re-registration, Scoutmaster Walter Hutt said.

Scouts of Troops 1, 4 and 18 will call on householders in the borough tonight in co-operation with the "porchlight campaign" of the United Fund.

PFC. JOHN Schroyer, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schroyer, Pottstown RD 3, has just completed 10 weeks of intensive training at Parris Island, S. C. He was promoted to private first class at the end of the training period. Parris Island is a Marine Corps recruit depot.

Murder Trial Starts In Dice Game Killing

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16 (AP)—The State put 26-year-old George Gasperic on trial today on charges of murdering Mark Silich in a Fourth of July dice game holdup. Prosecutor Samuel A. Strauss indicated he will ask the death penalty.

Mrs. Silich 26-year-old widow of the victim, told reporters: "I hope he (Gasperic) gets everything he deserves. But no matter what punishment he gets, it will never make up for his killing my husband."

Robert Lutz, 19, also charged with murder in the holdup which occurred at a Union picnic. He will face trial later.

President's Farmhouse Is Being Remodeled

GETTYSBURG, Nov. 16 (AP)—There are a lot of frustrated sidewalk superintendents in Adams county these past three weeks.

Workers have been remodeling a farmhouse in Cumberland township belonging to President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and only authorized personnel is allowed to watch the proceedings.

The alterations on the century-old farmhouse three miles south of here were begun Nov. 4 and already the north end of the structure has been reduced to a skeleton of log frame-work.

Recreation Commission Meeting Is Postponed

Last night's scheduled recreation commission session has been postponed until next week because two members were not able to attend.

Recreation Director Robert A. Reis reported, "We should set a date for the meeting by the end of the week."

President's Farmhouse Is Being Remodeled

GETTYSBURG, Nov. 16 (AP)—There are a lot of frustrated sidewalk superintendents in Adams county these past three weeks.

Workmen have been remodeling a farmhouse in Cumberland township belonging to President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and only authorized personnel is allowed to watch the proceedings.

The alterations on the century-old farmhouse three miles south of here were begun Nov. 4 and already the north end of the structure has been reduced to a skeleton of log frame-work.

Recreation Commission Meeting Is Postponed

Last night's scheduled recreation commission session has been postponed until next week because two members were not able to attend.

Recreation Director Robert A. Reis reported, "We should set a date for the meeting by the end of the week."

Mrs. Charlotte Cook Directs Pupils in Home Economics

By BETTY ANN CLARKE

The academic girls of the Ninth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Cook, have been doing a fine job of sewing in home economics. One of the girls is making a tan plaid suit, two others are making wool skirts and reversible weskit outfits. Skirts and weskits are being made by several others.

The Junior and Senior vocational students are also starting clothing projects. Two tailored suits, two weskits and skirt outfits of corduroy, a spun rayon dress and a plain rayon dress are being made.

The Seventh grade is working on aprons now and will later be making skirts. Eighth graders are enjoying a foods unit. They are preparing luncheons.

The vocational section of Ninth and Tenth grades are trying a diversified program, with groups of girls doing different jobs at the same time. These include six cooks, three housekeepers, three laundresses, and three baby sitters.

The Ninth grade under direction of Mr. Brown is learning the forces in flight. The four forces are: lift, weight, thrust and drag. The lift pulls the plane upward. It is created by the reaction of a stream of air to the wing shape. There can be no lift unless air is moving across the wing. The thrust pulls the plane forward. In a propeller driven plane, operetta, "Christmas Around the World," on Tuesday, Dec. 15. Leading roles will be played by Donna Yocum, Patricia Cisik, Rebecca Schlingman, Barbara Fritz, James Sitko, Peter Stanson and Judy Moser.

Members of the Girls Glee club and Junior High chorus are at present working on selections to be performed for the Thanksgiving Assembly. The Girls' Glee club, directed by Susan Phillips, accompanied by Suzanne Kirby, will sing, "The Lord's Prayer," by the members of the entire student body, will sing "Prayer of the Thanksgiving" and "Come Ye, Thankful People, Come."

The music department is also providing entertainment for the Senior class play, to be presented Nov. 21. Featured are a group of Senior boys who will sing "Down by the Riverside."

Elaine Raifsnnyder, assisted by Joan Lucas will sing "Bless This House," by Taylor. Miss Lucas also will present several piano selections before the play.

GOVERNMENT BONDS FIRM

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Long term US Government bonds firmed today as the Treasury announced it would refinance 10 billion dollars of maturing notes with relatively short term securities.

The engine turns the prop which bites into the air, pulling the plane forward. In a jet, hot gases are heated by the engine. Reaction from these hot gases rushing from the rear drives the plane forward.

The drag holds the plane back. It is the resistance of the air to any object moving through it. Drag always increases in proportion with the speed of the plane.

The weight pulls the plane downward. It is the familiar pull of gravity for all objects upon the earth or in the air.

Steel Institute Predicts 91 Percent Production

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—The American Iron and Steel institute today estimated steel production this week would total 2,057,000 tons with mills operating at 91.3 percent of capacity. This would compare with the past week's actual rate of 92.3 percent when 2,081,000 tons were turned out.

A month ago mills worked at 95.0 percent of capacity and produced 2,142,000 tons of steel and a year ago the figures were 106.5 and 2,212,000, respectively.

Oaklyn, N. J., $16,929.

Gulden said the question of whether the bids could be divided for work to the two stations would be decided by the Philadelphia firm, which made a series of recommended changes to relieve the annual low pressure problems of the North End.

Members then launched into a discussion on financing recommended improvements.

W. Mark Hendricks, Tenth ward, forced the issue. He asked that the financing be set up on a long-term basis.

The committee then voted to ask for bids from borough banks on borrowing funds on a short-term basis, until a bond issue, if necessary, can be approved.

Ralph H. Thomas, borough accountant, who directs the water department, asked what the committee intended to do about water School Legislation and Our Educational Programs."

He asserted, "I still think we ought to consider this meter problem. The longer we delay the worse it will get."

SOLICITOR C. Edmund Wells said, "That's exactly right. We should study all phases of improvements on a long-range plan." Committeemen, who previously had promised to bring up the meter issue, remained quiet.

Thomas said the entire project recommended by Albright and Friel will amount to approximately $200,000.

It includes the $97,000 construction of a 500,000 gallon water tank by the Chicago Bridge and Iron company, improvements to the pumping stations and the replacement of a number of undersized and outdated water lines.

Thomas estimated $18,000 of the improvements have been completed.

Improvements to the Evans street pumping station include a 50 percent increase in flow and pressure.

A 750-gallon-per-minute pump will replace the present 500-gallon pump.

At the Beech and Mintzer streets station the pressure will be boosted 50 percent.

Thoms. Gulden, Wells and Committeeman Paul I. Romig, Edward H. Hunnicutt, Henricks Wilbert O'Dell and Burgess William Griffith attended.

paper "The War Cry."

She distributes it each week to homes in Spring City, Royersford and Pottstown.

A lot of people have come and gone since Mrs. Neiman started her work, back around 1910.

"I started under Adjutant William Black," she said. In succession, she served under Adjutant Harold Watson, Capt. John Woodcock, Capt. William Hillis, Ensign Paul White, Adjutant Ronald Irvin, Capt. Meral Cox, and the present leader, Capt. C. Robert Flinn.

AT LAST night's service, she was made speechless by the number of people who turned out to honor her. Among the more than 150 persons were about 25 of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

J. Russell Reifsnider, vice chairman of the citizens advisory board, presented her with the certificate noting her outstanding work.

Mrs. Daniel Linton, president of the women's auxiliary, gave her the bonnet.

There were songs and brief talks. But maybe the highlight was when Mrs. Neiman, with her husband Luther, sang a duet called, "We Are Soldiers in the Blessed War of Jesus."

And I've come to be such a habit that if I miss a week because of weather or illness they always ask me the next time where I was."

ANOTHER of Mrs. Neiman's duties is selling and distributing the official Salvation Army newspaper "The War Cry."

She distributes it each week to homes in Spring City, Royersford and Pottstown.

A lot of people have come and gone since Mrs. Neiman started her work, back around 1910.

"I started under Adjutant William Black," she said. In succession, she served under Adjutant Harold Watson, Capt. John Woodcock, Capt. William Hillis, Ensign Paul White, Adjutant Ronald Irvin, Capt. Meral Cox, and the present leader, Capt. C. Robert Flinn.

AT LAST night's service, she was made speechless by the number of people who turned out to honor her. Among the more than 150 persons were about 25 of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

J. Russell Reifsnider, vice chairman of the citizens advisory board, presented her with the certificate noting her outstanding work.

Mrs. Daniel Linton, president of the women's auxiliary, gave her the bonnet.

There were songs and brief talks. But maybe the highlight was when Mrs. Neiman, with her husband Luther, sang a duet called, "We Are Soldiers in the Blessed War of Jesus."

Mrs. Neiman's tiny, but there certainly was no doubt at that moment about the kind of soldier Mrs. Neiman is.

Nearly a third of Canada's foreign trade moves by way of the St. Lawrence river.

Shack or Dinner Favorite 'Franks' Come Out on Top

A small fry's version of Utopia might well be a place where he could have "hot dogs" at every meal!

"Hot dogs," as produced by reputable sausage makers, are fully as nutritious as the meats from which they are made. They contain the same high quality protein, vitamins and minerals as found in the most costly cuts of top grades of meat.

Here's a thrifty dinner casserole combining flavorful franks with noodles, peas or green beans and a rich cheese sauce. With this tasty meal-in-one dish, sure to be a favorite with the children, all you need to serve is a crisp salad.

Frankfurter Dinner Casserole

- 6 frankfurters
 - 4 ounces medium noodles
 - 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 1/4 cup chopped onion
 - Flour, salt, pepper
 - 14 cups milk
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 cup shredded mild cheddar cheese
 - 1 cup canned green beans or peas (8 oz. can)
 - 1/4 cup catsup
- Cook noodles in boiling, salted water until tender, about 5 minutes. Drain and rinse. Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine and in it fry onion until golden brown. Stir in 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add Worcestershire sauce and cheese and stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Add cheese sauce and drained green beans or peas to noodles. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Cut franks in half crosswise and place on noodle mixture, spread with catsup. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees F. Four servings.

Frank Favorite

"Some like it hot; some like it cold..." Either way, you can be sure potato salad will be a hit when its menu partner is the zesty frankfurter. Here's the tested recipe for old-fashioned hot potato salad dressed up with slices of franks:

- 6 frankfurters
- 6 medium potatoes
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- Bacon drippings or other fat
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 Cup cider vinegar

ROUND STEAK TIPS

1. When having round steak ground for hamburgers, ask that a little suet or other fat be ground with the beef.
2. Never try to fry round steak as it will not be tender. Always brown the steak, add a little liquid and seasonings and cook until tender in a covered utensil.
3. Thin slices of round steak may be pounded, then rolled around a bread dressing for beef birds. Cook these slowly with liquid in a covered utensil.

Dinner Honors Daisy Henry, President Of IOOF Auxiliary State Association

DAISY M. HENRY

A testimonial dinner given by Canton Pottstown No. 6 and Pottstown Auxiliary 18 Patriarchs' Militant of IOOF honored Lady Daisy M. Henry, (Mrs. John C. Henry), recently installed president of the Department association of Pennsylvania.

Attended by State officers of all branches of the Odd Fellows from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Washington D. C. and Virginia, the affair was held Saturday night at the Eagles' Home association.

The guest of honor was escorted to her place by her chief of staff, Capt. Bruce Bechtel, a nephew, beneath an arch of daisies made by the officers of the Lady Wittenmyer Rebekah lodge 20, Pottstown. After the dinner she was introduced by General Russell K. Patterson, department commander of the Patriarchs' Militant.

The following other dignitaries were introduced by toastmaster Osborne Jeffries: Charles Pfeil, Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment; Florence Carlson, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Pennsylvania, department association vice president.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Donald Schaeffer, nephew of the guest of honor.

Entertainment for the evening included dinner music by the Raymond Elliott trio, saxophone solos by Hazel Mest, vocal solos by Grace A. Atkinson, a variety show by William Corryell, Collegeville, and a humorous address by J. Paul Kehn, Fleetwood.

Arrangements for the banquet were made by the following committee: Lady Geneva Kramer,

Mrs. Donald Knauer Speaks to Society On Lutheran Groups

"Spanish speaking Lutherans in North America" was the topic chosen by Mrs. Donald Knauer for her talk at the meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Transfiguration Lutheran church.

Included in her address was material on Frieda Hoh, missionary supported by the United Lutheran church of America in Puerto Rico. Miss Hoh has had this particular post for the past 26 years.

Following the program Mrs. George Kercher presented the highlights of the recent Missionary Society Convention of the Norris-town conference.

Shack or Dinner Favorite 'Franks' Come Out on Top

A small fry's version of Utopia might well be a place where he could have "hot dogs" at every meal!

"Hot dogs," as produced by reputable sausage makers, are fully as nutritious as the meats from which they are made. They contain the same high quality protein, vitamins and minerals as found in the most costly cuts of top grades of meat.

Here's a thrifty dinner casserole combining flavorful franks with noodles, peas or green beans and a rich cheese sauce. With this tasty meal-in-one dish, sure to be a favorite with the children, all you need to serve is a crisp salad.

Frankfurter Dinner Casserole

6 frankfurters
4 ounces medium noodles
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
Flour, salt, pepper
1 1/4 cups milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup shredded mild cheddar cheese
1/4 cup catsup

Cook noodles in boiling, salted water until tender, about 5 minutes. Drain and rinse. Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine and in it fry onion until golden brown. Stir in 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add Worcestershire sauce and cheese and stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Add cheese sauce and drained green beans or peas to noodles. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Cut franks in half crosswise and place on noodle mixture; spread with catsup. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees F. Four servings.

Frank Favorite

"Some like it hot; some like it cold..." Either way, you can be sure potato salad will be a hit when its menu partner is the zesty frankfurter. Here's the tested recipe for old-fashioned hot potato salad dressed up with slices of franks:

Franks with Hot Potato Salad
6 frankfurters
6 medium potatoes
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
Bacon drippings or other fat
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup cider vinegar

Warwick Association Announces Topic of Thursday's Session

"What does the school have a right to expect from the family?" will be the theme of Thursday's meeting of the Warwick school PTA.

General theme of the organization for the whole year is "The family meets the school."

A short play to be presented by Mrs. Carl Colle, Mrs. Donald Shand, Mrs. William Madden and Mrs. Leon Spohn will serve to introduce the evening's subject and the film titled, "Preface to Life."

Also included in the program will be a vocal solo, "Bless This House," by Carol Wambach.

London Broil Fitting For Holiday Dinners

For holiday dinners serve London broil. Pre-heat broiler of your range. Brush flank steak with melted butter or margarine and cook three inches from broiler for about 5 minutes on each side. Add salt and pepper when finished. Cut diagonally across the grain in thin slices and serve with mushroom sauce. Mashed potatoes, canned stewed tomatoes, tossed green salad, coffee and ice cream round out a "quickie" menu.

ROUND STEAK TIPS

1. When having round steak ground for hamburgers, ask that a little suet or other fat be ground with the beef.

2. Never try to fry round steak as it will not be tender. Always brown the steak, add a little liquid and seasonings and cook until tender in a covered utensil.

3. Thin slices of round steak may be pounded, then rolled around a bread dressing for beef birds. Cook these slowly with liquid in a covered utensil.

Shopping in Supermarket A Thrill Says Mrs. Calvin Brady After Stay in Vienna

(Mercury Staff Writer)

After spending three years in Vienna, Austria, coming home to the United States is like "coming to another world," says Mrs. Calvin D. Brady who is currently visiting her mother Mrs. Bethel Bruggeman, Graterford.

Mrs. Brady and her husband, Sgt. 1 c Calvin D. Brady, lived in central Vienna which is described by Mrs. Brady as a "city of walls." "The City is very ancient," she said, "and the walls were built centuries ago for protection."

"Usually only the high walls of buildings face the street. Then you enter through an arcade and find a courtyard or garden. From the street, you could never guess what is inside," Mrs. Brady recalled.

Some buildings are quite elaborate. "Shoenbrunn," the summer palace of the Hapsburgs, especially impressed her. "The furnishings are fabulous," she commented.

Located in the outskirts of the city, 41 rooms of the famous palace are opened to the public.

"Our travels in Vienna were mostly by streetcar and army bus," stated Mrs. Brady. "Taxis are in evidence, too, but are ridiculously old models," she laughed.

"Combined with cobblestone streets, the ancient taxis make for some bumpy rides, but are good for putting babies to sleep," said the young mother.

The Bradys became the parents of three little daughters during their three years overseas. Janet is now 28 months old and Diane is one year old.

When asked about the food situation in Austria, Mrs. Brady stated that American imports were quite stale, but European foods were good and relatively inexpensive.

Her cooking took on quite an international flavor when she used vegetables from Italy, butter from Denmark and Viennese bread. According to her the "Viennese are superb bakers."

"But shopping in a Collegeville supermarket and finding everything so fresh was a thrill," she commented enthusiastically.

Restaurant foods were inexpensive she said. A full course steak dinner for two could be had for two dollars. Even the tip was included in the price.

Although bicycles are quite popular among the Viennese, the number of automobiles in the city surprised the Bradys. The American, British and French sectors of the city are quite prosperous and most of the war rubble has been cleared away.

However the Russian zone seemed "more backward" to her. Travel there is prohibited unless you have the proper papers.

The Bradys lived in the oldest part of Vienna which is now an international zone governed alternately by the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

"It is the only place in the world with such a system," Mrs. Brady stated. The flags of the four nations fly over the city.

Mrs. Brady returned to the United States on Wednesday by plane. "After taking off from Munich, Germany, we landed in Ireland for dinner, then in Iceland for breakfast."

"We had a late lunch in Newfoundland," she said, "and then went on to land at Idlewild, New York, 30 hours later."

Wishing Well and Blue Moon Set Theme For Sophomore Hop Held in Norco School

"Blue Moon" was the theme of the Sophomore Hop held in North Norco Elementary school the past weekend. One hundred eighty-eight persons turned out for an evening of dancing amid palm trees and decorations of pastel green and yellow.

As an added bit of attraction a wishing well was set in the middle of the dance floor beneath the "blue moon."

Refreshment committee included: Richard Moyer, chairman, Darlene Frederick, Patricia Day-ock, Carl Hoffecker and Betty Ann Kerr.

Barbara Buckwalter, Lucille Swavely and chairman Jane Moyer made up the publicity committee.

Other persons responsible for entertainment were Helen George, chairman, Kathleen Collins and Barbara Moyer.

Merwina Thompson's First Birthday Marked With Party

A lone candle sat atop the birthday cake of Merwina Thompson in honor of her first birthday anniversary. The party, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merwina Thompson, Tylersport, took place on Saturday, although her birthday was yesterday.

Assorted colored balloons served as decorations.

Attending were: Verna and Ruth Long, Ellen Krupp, Barbara Richard, Patsy and Eddie Townsend, William, Betty and Harvey Beckler, Diane Raub, Patty Tamburino and Merwina's three year old brother George.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. William Leister and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Freed.

NUTS ADD EXOTIC TOUCH

Like a touch of the exotic in your company menus? Then use pine nuts or pistachio nuts in some of your dishes. Brown the pine nuts lightly in butter and serve over fish fillets. Or stir them into fluffy cooked rice and serve with lamb kebabs or a roast of lamb. Use the pistachio nuts in a cream cheese spread and then smooth into the cavities of celery stalks; cut into one-inch lengths and serve as a first course or with a salad.

Shopping in Supermarket A Thrill Says Mrs. Calvin Brady After Stay in Vienna

(Mercury Staff Writer)

After spending three years in Vienna, Austria, coming home to the United States is like "coming to another world," says Mrs. Calvin D. Brady who is currently visiting her mother Mrs. Bethel Bruggeman, Graterford.

Mrs. Brady and her husband, Sgt. 1/c Calvin D. Brady, lived in central Vienna which is described by Mrs. Brady as a "city of walls." "The City is very ancient," she said, "and the walls were built centuries ago for protection."

"Usually only the high walls of buildings face the street. Then you enter through an arcade and find a courtyard or garden. From the street, you could never guess what is inside," Mrs. Brady recalled.

Some buildings are quite elaborate. "Shoenbrunn," the summer palace of the Hapsburgs, especially impressed her. "The furnishings are fabulous," she commented.

Located in the outskirts of the city, 41 rooms of the famous palace are opened to the public.

"Our travels in Vienna were mostly by streetcar and army bus," stated Mrs. Brady. "Taxis are in evidence, too, but are ridiculously old models," she laughed.

"Combined with cobblestone streets, the ancient taxis make for some bumpy rides, but are good for putting babies to sleep," said the young mother.

The Bradys became the parents of two little daughters during their three years overseas. Janet is now 28 months old and Diane is one year old.

When asked about the food situation in Austria, Mrs. Brady said that American imports were quite stale, but European foods were good and relatively inexpensive.

Her cooking took on quite an international flavor when she used vegetables from Italy, butter from Denmark and Viennese bread. According to her the "Viennese are superb bakers."

"But shopping in a Collegeville supermarket and finding everything so fresh was a thrill," she commented enthusiastically.

Restaurant foods were inexpensive she said. A full course steak dinner for two could be had for two dollars. Even the tip was included in the price.

Although bicycles are quite popular among the Viennese, the number of automobiles in the city surprised the Bradys. The American, British and French sections of the city are quite prosperous and most of the war rubble has been cleared away.

However the Russian zone seemed "more backward" to her. Travel there is prohibited unless you have the proper papers.

The Bradys lived in the oldest part of Vienna which is now an international zone governed alternately by the United States, Britain, France and Russia. "It is the only place in the world with such a system," Mrs. Brady stated. The flags of the four nations fly over the city.

Mrs. Brady returned to the United States on Wednesday by plane. "After taking off from Munich, Germany, we landed in Ireland for dinner, then in Iceland for breakfast."

"We had a late lunch in Newfoundland," she said, "and then went on to land at Idlewild, New York, 30 hours later."

When asked what she missed most during her three years overseas, Mrs. Brady listed her family first and the privilege of traveling as you please, second.

"I missed those Sunday afternoon drives," she commented. She went on to explain that travel outside Vienna was permitted only on one highway.

"Many holidays are celebrated in Vienna," she added, "most of them are religious holidays." The celebrations take the form of ancient rituals with much parading through the streets.

Mrs. Brady's impression of Viennese ceremonies is typical of her impression of all of Vienna—very ancient, quaint and very different from the United States.

FBI Probe Dictated Decision on White, Truman Asserts, As He Blasts Charge by Brownell as Political Trickery

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16 (AP)—Harry S. Truman said tonight that Harry Dexter White was retained in Government service despite accusations of disloyalty against him because it was of great importance that an investigation involving many other persons go forward.

Asserting that final responsibility for this decision was his, the former President said "any unusual action with respect to Mr. White's appointment might well have alerted all the persons involved to the fact the investigation was underway, and thus endanger the success of the investigation."

At that time, in February 1946, White was under consideration for appointment as a member of the International Monetary Fund, a new international organization then being set up.

"Tonight, I want the American people to understand that the course we took protected the public interest and security and at the same time permitted the intensive FBI investigation then in progress to go forward," Truman said in an address prepared for delivery over a nationwide radio and television hookup. "No other course could have served both of these purposes."

Mr. Truman's speech, nationally broadcast and televised, was in reply to Attorney General Brownell's charge that White, now dead, was retained in an important government post despite reports that White was a Soviet spy.

Truman related that results of investigation up to that time in 1947 were laid before a Federal grand jury at which White was called as a witness. The grand jury, he said, did not indict White although it was the same grand jury which indicted the 12 top Communists in this country.

He added that White resigned in April, 1947, from his office "referring to reasons of health."

"Although my recent off hand comment concerning his resignation was in error," Truman said, "the fact is that he was separated from Government service promptly when the necessity for secrecy concerned the intensive investigation by the FBI came to an end."

Truman's talk was designed as he stated it, to "answer all the questions" which have come up since Nov. 6 when Attorney General Brownell accused the Truman Administration of keeping White in office despite FBI reports to the White House that he was a Russian spy.

Termining the actions of the present Administration "shameful demagoguery," Truman said "it has distorted a decision that enabled an investigation of great importance to proceed—as it did—unembarrassed, and with ample safeguard to the public interest, into an alleged harboring of Communists."

"HERBERT BROWNELL JR., the attorney general of the United States," Truman said, "has degraded the highest function of Government—the administration of justice—into cheap political trickery. The attorney general of the United States has not only degraded his office, he has deceived his chief as to what he proposed to do, and in saying 'Harry Dexter White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him' he lied to the American people. In backing away again from this charge with the mealy-mouthed statement that he had no intention of impugning the loyalty of any high official of the prior administration, he lied to the American people again."

Declaring "there is one aspect of this affair that should be clear to everyone," Truman said, "that is the obvious political motivation of this attack on me. In launching

Sen. Ferguson Says Ex-President Used US Senate as 'Decoy'

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), following former President Truman on the air tonight, said President Truman had failed to answer several questions about the Harry Dexter White affair.

Ferguson also asserted that Truman had carefully refrained from mentioning the name of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, while claiming White was left in a Government job to avoid interfering with an FBI investigation.

He also said Truman's speech indicated the former President had used the Senate of the United States "as a decoy," by permitting the Senate to confirm White's appointment to the board of the International Monetary Fund without letting the Senate know about an unfavorable FBI report on White.

Ferguson was asked if, as chairman of the Republican Policy committee, he knew of any basis for Truman's charge that the speech by Attorney General Brownell, accusing Truman of ignoring the FBI report in appointing White, was timed for its political effect.

"Certainly none that I knew of," Ferguson replied, adding "I know of nothing today that was used in this timing."

In this attack the Republican attorney general worked hand in glove with the Republican National committee. The matter and the timing of what has been done makes it perfectly clear that the powers of the attorney general have been prostituted for hopes of political gain. No election is worth so much."

"It is now evident," Truman said, "that the present administration has fully embraced for political advantage McCarthyism."

He added he was not referring to the senator from Wisconsin, saying "he is only important in that his name has taken on a dictionary meaning in the world."

"It is the corruption of truth, the abandonment of our historical devotion to fair play," Truman said.

1912 Pullet Winner Is Sought by Police

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 16 (AP)—If police can determine eggactly who won the "Best Pullet" award of the American Orpington club of Louisville, Ky., in 1912, they can unscramble a current mystery.

Ten silver loving cups were found in hip-deep water of Weequahic park lake yesterday by an Essex county motorcycle patrolman. Several of the cups carried the "Best Pullet" inscription.

Police theorize the cups were tossed into the lake by an Orpington enthusiast who had lost his enthusiasm, or by a thief who never had any in the first place.

An Orpington is a large, deep-breasted fowl of English breed with single combs and short unfeathered legs. The birds come in buff, white, black and blue varieties.

TRUCE SESSION Detailed Confession by Mrs. Heady SITE PICKED Of Boy's Killing Shocks Packed Court BY COMMUNISTS

Red Note Suggests Panmunjom for Conference

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Communists today proposed Panmunjom as the site of the Korean peace conference and said they want Russia, India, Indonesia, Pakistan and Burma seated as neutrals.

Copies of the official Red statement were handed to Allied correspondents by Communist newsmen Wilfred Burchett as negotiators assembled to discuss plans for the fateful meeting.

The statement contained three points:

1. Each side would decide which nations should represent it at the conference.
2. All conference decisions must be by unanimous agreement.
3. Five "neutral nations" should attend "to insure the smooth progress of the political (peace) conference."

The United Nations already has gone on record as opposing Panmunjom or any other Communist site. It has suggested San Francisco, Honolulu or Geneva, but expressed willingness to discuss other neutral locations.

TWO SUBCOMMITTEES were attempting to iron out plans for the conference. One was discussing the makeup and site and the other was attempting to fix the time.

US Special Envoy Arthur Dean led the Allied delegation considering the crucial question of what nations shall attend the peace conference and where it will meet.

Dean and the top North Korean and Chinese Red foreign ministry delegates agreed Monday to hold the divided sessions. The idea was embodied in a 5-point agenda on arrangements which was finally adopted Saturday after a 3-week deadlock.

Sale of Handcuffs Is Unprofitable

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 16 (AP)—A stranger walked into the Mayval Loan company today and told the proprietor he wanted to buy a pair of handcuffs.

Louis Rosansky, who operates the pawn shop, brought out a pair. The man said he wanted a more expensive set and "to go ahead and wait on those other people first."

After the other customers left, the stranger hauled out a gun, cuffed Rosansky to a large metal clothes rack and robbed him of $970.

The expensive cuffs held.

The father of the boy, Robert C. Greenlease Sr., looked on from a front row seat as the US District Attorney Edward L. Scheutler read the confession.

UN Delegates Ask For 'Silent Room'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Debate-weary UN delegates today asked Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to provide them with a private "silent room" for those who wanted to work without interruption.

Netherlands Delegate W. H. J. Van Asch Van Wijck brought up the question in the 60-Nation financial committee.

Chairman Awni Khalidy of Iraq carried the delegates' lounge—where the delegates' lounge—where there is a bar—had turned into a public room. He urged creation of a room where there would be no drinks, no visitors, no loudspeakers, no secretariat members.

President Tells CIO He Will Recommend T-H Act Amendment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower told the CIO today he will ask Congress in January to amend the Taft-Hartley act so as to make it "absolutely fair to the laboring men and women of this nation, to management, and the public at large."

In a letter to CIO President Walter Reuther, to be read at the organization's convention at Cleveland, Eisenhower repeated his previously expressed view that the labor law is "fundamentally sound" but should be changed in some respects.

"For months," Eisenhower said, "members of the Administration have been engaged in a searching study of the act."

"Our objective is to recommend improvement in order to make possible a more free and vigorous collective bargaining process, to reduce government intervention in labor-management relations, and to promote sound and peaceful industrial relationships so essential to the economic well-being of American workingmen and women and to the welfare of all elements of our nation."

"I shall submit the resulting suggestions to the Congress when it convenes in January."

In formulating these suggestions, our guide will be the fundamental principle that the law must be absolutely fair to the laboring men and women of this nation, to management, and to the public at large."

The White House made the President's message public.

TRIESTE HOPES ARE CHILLED

Tito Uses Newspaper For Declaration On Policy

ROME, Nov. 16 (AP)—New Yugoslav demands today chilled optimism for an early Trieste settlement, on the eve of a critical foreign policy debate in the Italian Parliament.

The Italian Cabinet worked late tonight framing answers which Premier Giuseppe Pella will give to six questioners in the Chambers of Deputies. The Chamber, Lower House of Parliament, might decide whether Italy will sit down at a five-power conference on the thorny Trieste problem.

Informed sources said Pella must emerge from the Chamber session with full freedom to negotiate at any five-power meeting. Otherwise, these informants said, little fruitful can be expected from a meeting which diplomats are trying to shape up among the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Yugoslavia.

When Yugoslav President Tito in a major policy speech in Belgrade Sunday failed to mention his previous proposal that the City of Trieste be made autonomous—but did say Yugoslavia would waive its claims to the city in exchange for the rest of the Allied occupation zone of the free territory.

This hope appeared chilled today when Borba, official newspaper of Tito's Communist party, declared emphatically that Belgrade would regard as an "act of aggression" any Italian move to take over the key Adriatic port city before final settlement of the whole Trieste problem.

Detailed Confession by Mrs. Heady Of Boy's Killing Shocks Packed Court

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16 (AP)—Tight lipped jurors heard in grim detail today how the kidnap killers of little Bobby Greenlease plotted and executed their shocking crime.

The father of the boy, Robert C. Greenlease Sr., looked on from a front row seat as the US District Attorney Edward L. Scheufler read the confession.

The Government has asked the death penalty for Mrs. Heady and her partner in crime, Carl Austin Hall, a 34-year-old wastrel who threw away a fortune on his downward slide into crime. Both Hall and Mrs. Heady have pleaded guilty.

All the jury has to decide is whether they live or die. Mrs. Heady's long, detailed confession was read in a jammed but silent courtroom. Women spectators narrowed their eyes and shook their heads at some of the revelations.

Greenlease bowed his head at times, fighting for emotional control.

In the sordid story, Mrs. Heady told how she and her lover, Hall, planned to kill little Bobby even before they snatched him from his exclusive private school here Sept. 28. They dug his grave and rehearsed the crime the day before, she said.

The boy was picked up on a ruse. Mrs. Heady claimed she was his aunt and wanted to take him to his mother, suddenly taken ill.

Once they had the boy in her station wagon, unsuspecting and not at all reluctant to go with them, they drove to a Kansas wheatfield near Kansas City. While Hall went to the back of the car and laid out a plastic sheet, Mrs. Heady walked away. While she was gone she heard two shots.

Then her confession tells the story: "I then realized Carl had actually killed the victim by shooting him, although it was originally planned he would strangle him with a small piece of rope he had in the station wagon."

"As I approached the station wagon, Carl was draping Bobby Greenlease in a piece of blue plastic. . . I helped Carl life the body into the station wagon where Carl covered it with a comforter. . .

"At this time I noticed that Carl had blood all over his face, coat, hands and arms. . . I then took some cleaning tissue wiped off Carl's face and hands, removing as much blood as I possibly could so that it would not be noticed when he drove back through Kansas City. . .

"I recall asking Carl at this point why he had shot the victim, and he told me he tried to strangle him, but the cord was too short for him to get sufficient leverage, and since the boy started to struggle and fight he had to dispose of him by shooting."

On their way back to St. Joseph to bury the body, they stopped at a tavern and had a few drinks.

At Mrs. Heady's home, Hall carried the body to the shallow grave, put the plastic sheeted body into the trench, covered it with lime and shoveled in some dirt.

Then he left for Kansas City to mail the first ransom demand, leaving Mrs. Heady to fill in the rest of the grave. She said she had a hard time with the job.

Netherlands Delegate W. H. J. Van Asch Van Wijk brought up the question in the 60-Nation financial committee.

Chairman Awni Khalidy of Iraq said the delegates' lounge—where there is a bar—had turned into a public room. He urged creation of a room where there would be no drinks, no visitors, no loudspeakers, no secretariat members.

5000 Watch Disciple Under Burning Logs

MADRAS, India, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Madras newspaper, Hindu, said today a Yogi disciple went into a five-foot-deep pit and stayed five hours while a half ton of logs burned over him.

The newspaper said 5000 persons watched as Swami Sadhu Maharaj, at the end of the ordeal, walked calmly out of the pit.

The Yogi claim they have occult power and mental discipline over the body to withstand natural forces.

President Tells CIO He Will Recommend T-H Act Amendment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower told the CIO today he will ask Congress in January to amend the Taft-Hartley act so as to make it "absolutely fair to the laboring men and women of this nation, to management, and the public at large."

In a letter to CIO President Walter Reuther, to be read at the organization's convention at Cleveland, Eisenhower repeated his previously expressed view that the labor law is "fundamentally sound" but should be changed in some respects.

"For months," Eisenhower said, "members of the Administration have been engaged in a searching study of the act."

"Our objective is to recommend improvement in order to make possible a more free and vigorous collective bargaining process, to reduce government intervention in labor-management relations, and to promote sound and peaceful industrial relationships so essential to the economic well-being of American workingmen and women and to the welfare of all elements of our nation."

"I shall submit the resulting suggestions to the Congress when it convenes in January."

In formulating these suggestions, our guide will be the fundamental principle that the law must be absolutely fair to the laboring men and women of this nation, to management, and to the public at large."

The White House made the President's message public.

TRIESTE HOPES ARE CHILLED

Tito Uses Newspaper For Declaration On Policy

ROME, Nov. 16 (AP)—New Yugoslav demands today chilled optimism for an early Trieste settlement, on the eve of a critical foreign policy debate in the Italian Parliament.

The Italian Cabinet worked late tonight framing answers which Premier Giuseppe Pella will give to six questioners in the Chambers of Deputies. The Chamber, Lower House of Parliament, might decide whether Italy will sit down at a five-power conference on the thorny Trieste problem.

Informed sources said Pella must emerge from the Chamber session with full freedom to negotiate at any five-power meeting. Otherwise, these informants said, little fruitful can be expected from a meeting which diplomats are trying to shape up among the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Yugoslavia.

When Yugoslav President Tito in a major policy speech in Belgrade Sunday failed to mention his previous proposal that the City of Trieste be made autonomous—but did say Yugoslavia would waive its claims to the city in exchange for the rest of the Allied occupation zone of the free territory.

This hope appeared chilled today when Borba, official newspaper of Tito's Communist party, declared emphatically that Belgrade would regard as an "act of aggression" any Italian move to take over the key Adriatic port city before final settlement of the whole Trieste problem.

Communist Police Charge German Spies for US

BERLIN, Nov. 16 (AP)—Communist political police said tonight they have arrested a former German Army major and charged him with working with a US-sponsored spy ring.

The Communists said they nabbed Werner Haase when he laid out "a special cable of American origin" across the East-West Berlin border to phone secret information to the US sector.

interested in what's happening in the schools—we hope to have more meetings like it."

BEFORE THE discussion started, 55 colored slides were shown, vividly contrasting the old versus the new ideas in education. Many of the pictures were taken in Pottstown schools years ago. They were shown by Heather Davidheiser, a pupil in the High school and a member of the Future Teachers of America.

Dr. McCormick noted that the purpose of the discussion was to analyze the changes which have taken place in American education over the years.

"Progress is our most important product; America resents stagnation and welcomes change," he said by way of introduction.

Davenport said that as a result of the compulsory attendance law, the senior high schools have changed their concepts from setting up a program and having a child meet it, to one which meets the needs of the child.

"We now try to find what a child needs and then supply it," he said.

Maraffie spoke on the development of special programs during the past 15 years for mentally retarded children.

"These classes have grown from two to six in that period," he said, "and the philosophy has changed."

"Pupils are in special classes because of mental retardation, rather than discipline," he asserted.

"We find that it is cheaper and better to educate mentally retarded children, and teach them to earn a livelihood in later life rather than to keep them in institutions," he stated.

MOWER discussed the junior high school as a transitional period for pupils between elementary school and high school.

He emphasized the point that a fine industrial arts department provides the necessary means to meet the needs and desires of all the pupils.

Fosnocht said that the teaching of reading has changed because teachers now are better prepared and know more about learning processes.

Phonetics still are recognized and have a place, but only as part of the word recognition program, he said.

After the discussion, the visitors toured the new cafeteria in the basement of the High school, where refreshments were served.

The school orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Maraffie, played several numbers before the meeting. Group singing was led by Grace Baro, teacher of vocal music in the Junior High school.

The invocation was by the Rev. Eugene B. Umberger, pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran church.

Members of the hospitality committee, which Mrs. Hunsicker said did a splendid job in arranging for the meeting, were: Mrs. Lawrence Slavek, Mrs. Robert Richards, Mrs. Walter Flizz, Mrs. Harry Boyer, Mrs. Fred Young, Mrs. Harold Lochman and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk.

Fosnocht to Handle Added Teachers' Donations

Pottstown's teachers still can make individual contributions to the United Fund, even though the solicitation at the schools officially is closed.

This was reported yesterday by Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools, who said contributions can be made through Harvard Fosnocht, elementary schools principal, who is heading the education division of the United Fund.

Borough teachers so far have given a total of $806 individually and $1000 through their association.

THE UNITED FUND drive now has reached slightly over $150,000. The goal is $182,000. Every dollar will count when it comes to allocating money to the tightly-budgeted agencies.

Tonight's the night. Six-thirty's the starting time, though United Fund leaders hope it will take quite a while for the Scouts to collect all the envelopes.

Pottstown Gets Ready for Most Glorious Thanksgiving

YOUR TURKEY AND HOW TO ROAST IT

Largest Crop to Choose From This Year, So Get the Best!

FIVE CLASSIFICATIONS GIVE A WIDE CHOICE

This year of 1953 brings the homemaker the largest crop of turkeys on record. So let's talk turkey.

It's the biggest array ever from which to choose your traditional Thanksgiving bird . . . but which one should you buy? A tom, a hen or a small turkey?

Here are the salient points you should know.

TURKEYS are divided into five classifications, based on age and sex.

The "meal or family" (fryer or roaster) turkey is a new variety; young, 2 to 4 months in age; tender; usually weighs from 4 to 8 pounds ready-to-cook weight. Cookery methods: Broil, fry or roast.

Young toms are male turkeys under 8 months in age, popular consumer size 12 to 35 pounds. Cookery methods: Broil, braise, roast, fricassee or fry.

Young hens are female turkeys under 8 months in age, popular consumer size 8 to 18 pounds. Cookery methods: Broil, braise, roast, fricassee or fry.

Tom (mature) turkeys are males over 8 months in age. Cookery methods: Simmer, fricassee or braise.

Mature tom turkeys can be roasted if the pan is covered three quarters of the time, however this steaming will not produce the same flavor as when roasting a young bird in an uncovered pan.

Hen (mature) turkeys are females over 8 months in age. Cookery methods: Simmer, fricassee or braise. May also be roasted following same suggestion as for mature Toms.

There are three styles of turkey available.

READY-TO-COOK (also known as New York dressed) may be fresh or quick-frozen. They are cleaned and fully drawn, ready for the oven.

Dressed turkeys (formerly known as New York dressed) have been plucked but not drawn. Head and feet are on.

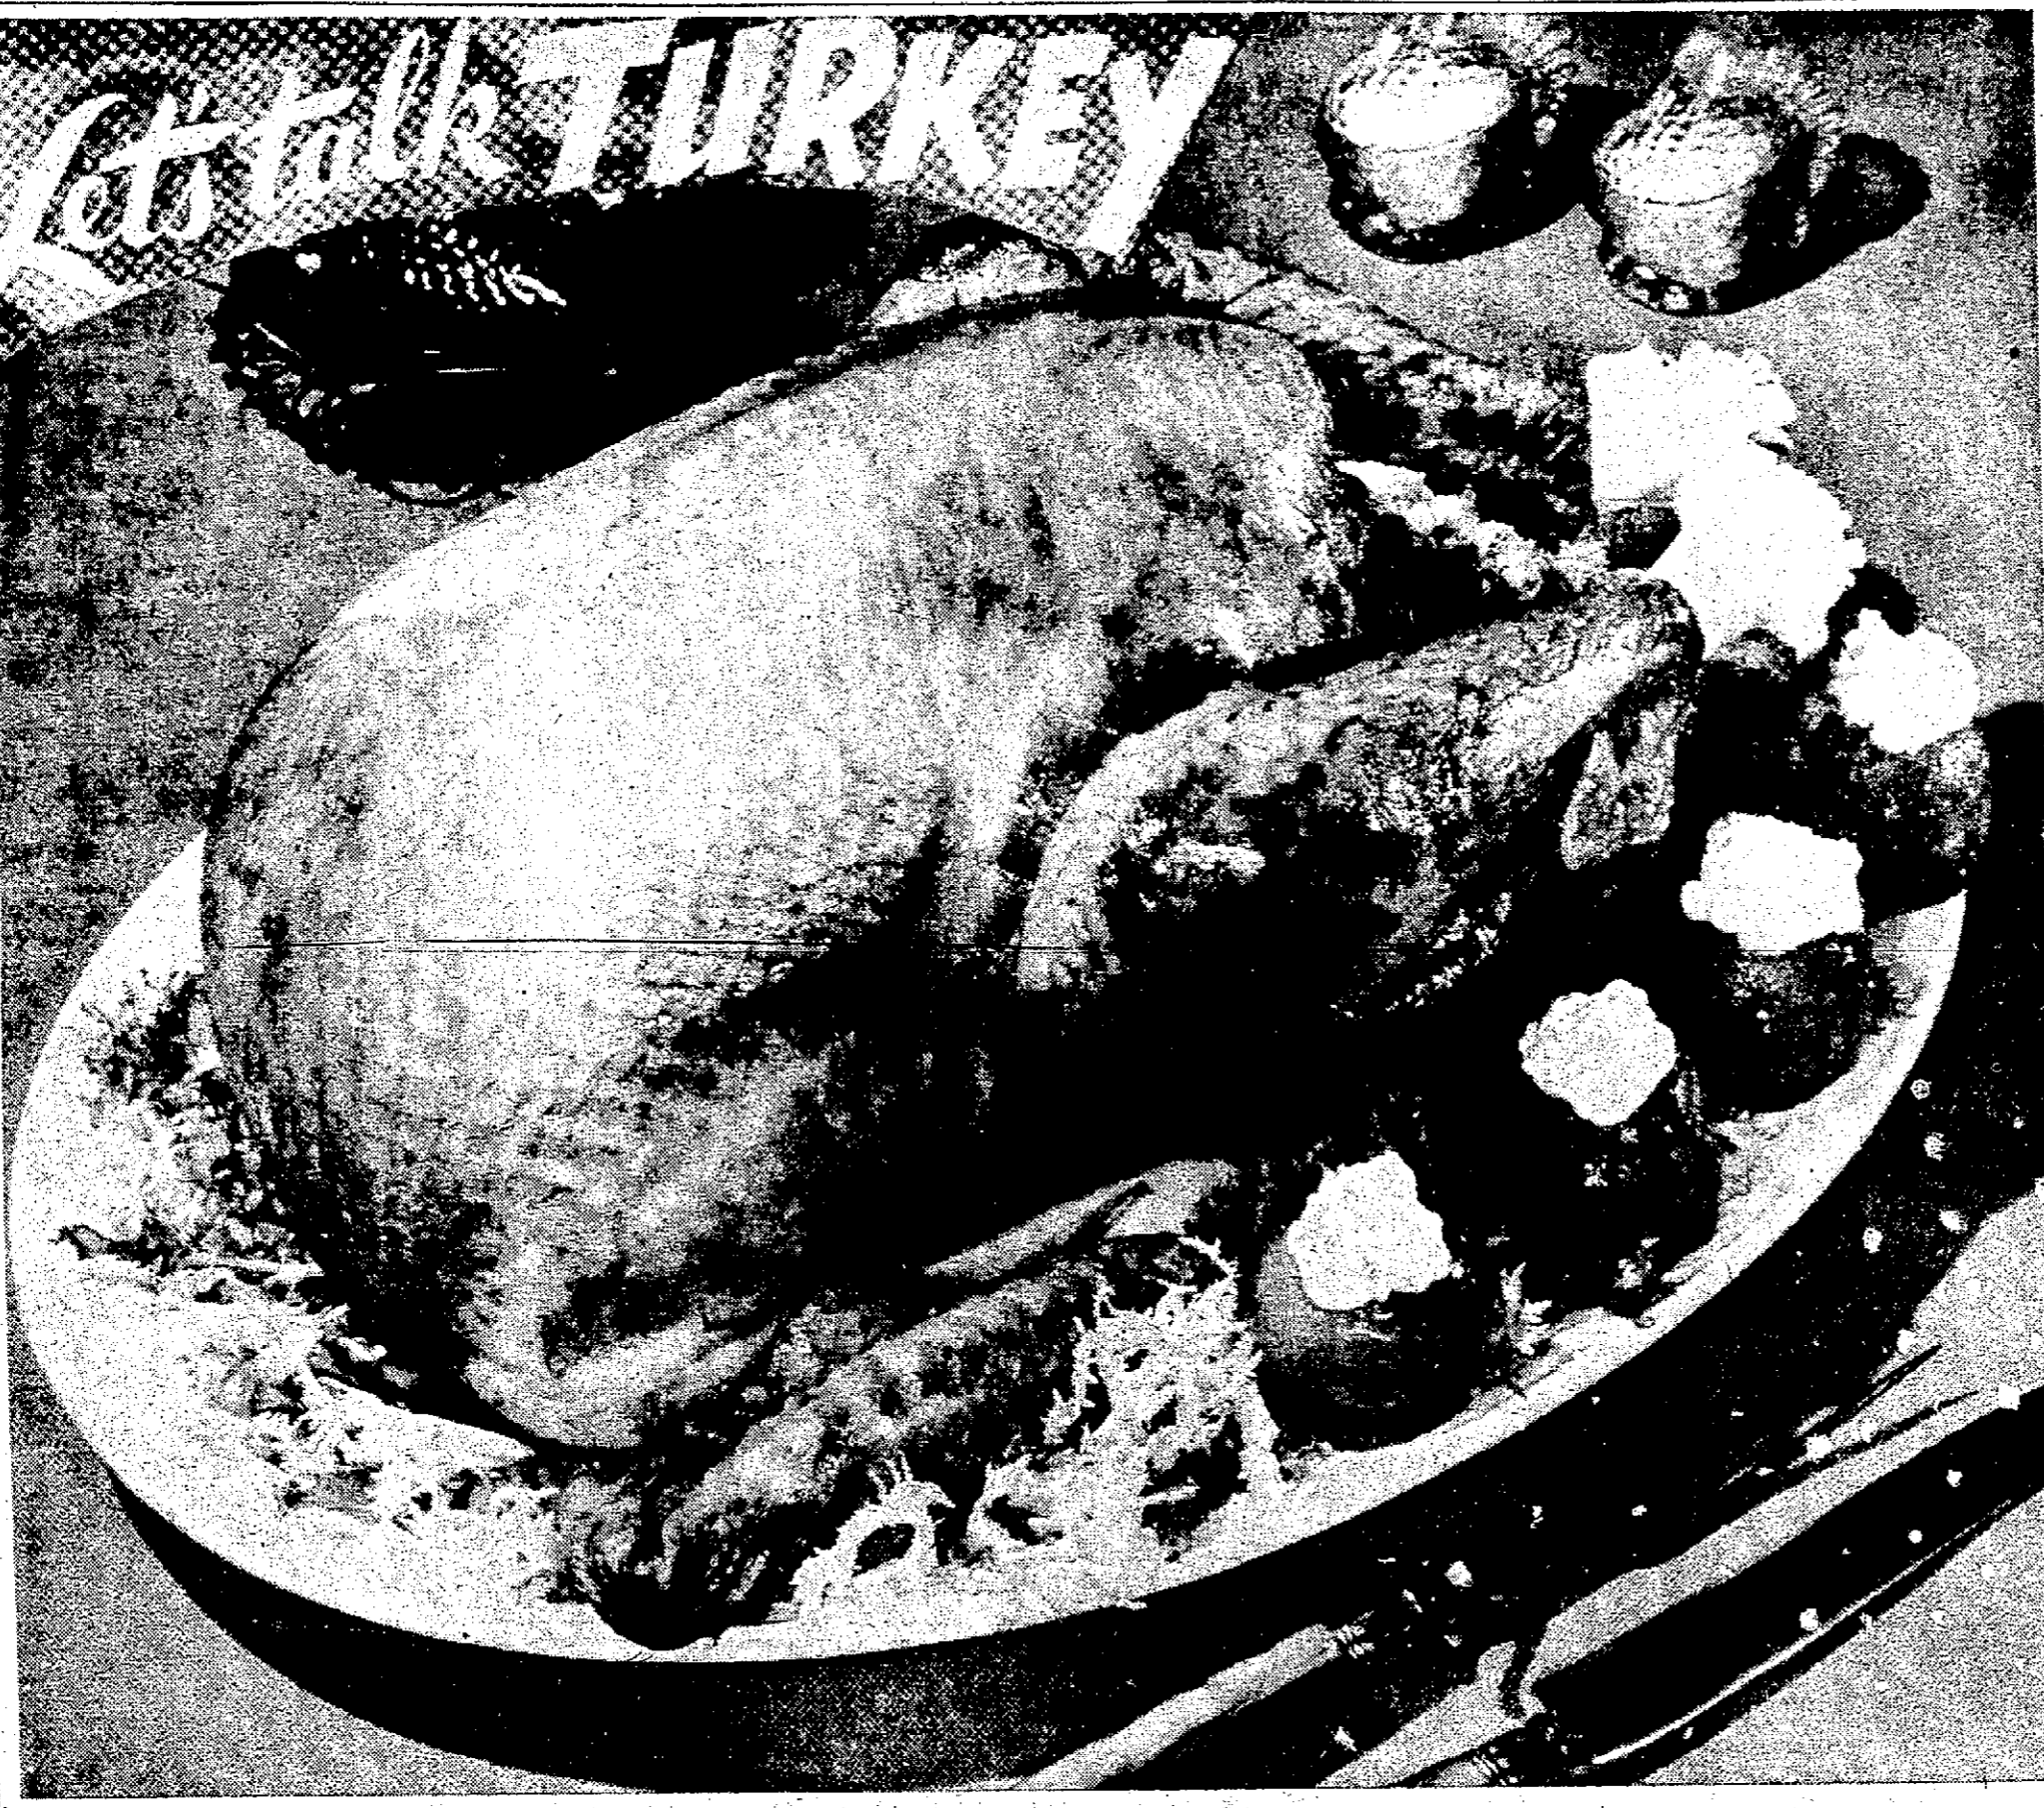

Cut-up turkey is cut in half (split lengthwise in quarters or into individual pieces — legs, breast, back, wings, neck and giblets). Individual turkey pieces are available in some markets. Retailers usually will cut a turkey in half.

What size turkey do you need?

If your requirements can be met with 4 to 8 pounds choose the "small or family" turkey or a half or quarter of a young hen or tom, says the Poultry and Egg National Board.

If your requirements are in the 8 to 15 pound range a young hen turkey, they say, will usually be your best choice. As a rule hen turkeys are better finished at this weight than are toms.

If your requirements are in the 16 to 25 pound range, they recommend a young tom turkey as usually the best choice. Toms are at their best at this weight and the wisest choice for a large turkey.

Roasting Time—Half, Quarter Turkey

Ready-to-Cook Weight (Pounds)	Oven Temperature (Degrees F.)	Approximate Roasting Time (Hours)
3½ to 5	325	3 to 3½
5 to 8	325	3½ to 4
8 to 12	325	4 to 4½
10 to 12	325	4½ to 5
12 to 14	325	5 to 5½
14 to 16	325	5½ to 6
16 to 18	325	6 to 6½
18 to 20	325	6½ to 7½

(All times are approximate, for individual birds differ and it may be necessary to increase or decrease time accordingly.)

Two easy tests to determine doneness are: Pinch the fleshy part of the drumstick between fingers. The meat should feel very soft. Or, move the drumstick up and down. The leg should move easily or the joint should break.

Roast Turkey With Cinnamon Apples Combines 2 Favorites

Here is a time-honored favorite, serving—remember second helpings are often the rule at holiday dinners. If the turkey is purchased quick-frozen, defrost in the refrigerator. Leave bird in its original wrap. Allow 2 to 3 days for a 12 to 20 lb. turkey. Be sure to remove the giblets and neck found in the neck and body cavities. To roast the turkey: Stuff just before placing it in the oven. Then fix the wings "akimbo" and tie the legs to the tail to make a compact shape. Place the turkey, breast up, on a rack in a shallow open pan. Grease skin with cooking fat. Cover loosely with a strip of aluminum foil or fat-moistened cheesecloth. When the bird is 2/3 done, cut the cord binding the tail to the legs to allow the heat to penetrate to the inside thigh muscle.

Cinnamon apples, garnishing a perfect roast turkey. Cinnamon apples are not only a "pretty-to-see" garnish but a "wonderful-to-eat" accompaniment to roast turkey. The hollow centers of the apples may be filled with cream cheese. In the photograph the apples are shown topped with a cream cheese rosette. The cinnamon apples will simplify the menu and service by doubling for a salad and the fruit pickles that are often a part of this traditional meal. Choose a turkey allowing ½ pound ready-to-cook weight per

FESTIVE DINNER HOLIDAY PLAN

Variety Can Be Obtained By Using a Pork Loin Roast

Former Menu

- Frosted Fruit Cup
- Roast Loin of Pork
- Spiced Cherry Garnish
- Whipped Sweet Potatoes
- Creamed Onions
- with Paprika
- Cranberry-Orange Salad
- Bran Muffins
- Butter or Margarine
- Date Nut Pudding
- Beverage

For one festive dinner why not serve a generous pork loin roast? It will make such a gay appearance on the table. For a clever touch, strip the meat from the rib bones and top each bone with a tiny paper frill.

ROASTING meat takes little of your attention. You can place the roast in a 350 degree F. oven and forget about it until near serving time. The modern way to roast meat is as follows: Place the meat fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not cover and do not add water to the pan.

If you have a roast meat thermometer be sure to use it. This eliminates guesswork. Inserted in the center of thickest section, but not on bone or in fat, the thermometer will indicate when the roast has reached the degree of doneness you desire.

You can plan on 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a center cut roast; 45 to 50 minutes per pound for an end roast. Let the roast stand in a warm place for 15 to 20 minutes after it comes from the oven to make carving easier.

If Menu Becomes Monotonous Here's Way to Add Variety

It's easy to incorporate variety in your menus, says Reba Staggs, home economist. For instance, she suggests you follow some of your old favorite recipes, but simply add new cooking liquids or seasonings, new garnishes. Each of these can give a grand new touch to your meat dish.

For example, when you buy round steak perhaps you habitually prepare it as a Swiss steak. In addition to onion and tomatoes, you might add green pepper rings, slit and filled with butter or twice-baked potatoes, oven browned potatoes or French fries. Fall fruits such as apples and pears can be worked into your menu. You might fill the cavities with jelly or mince-then braise the same as a Swiss meat.

And instead of cooking your pot-roast with the usual stew vegetables, onions, potatoes and carrots, look to new vegetables. Try cauliflower, green pepper rings, squash, okra, sweet potatoes and fruits such as dried apricots, prunes or cranberries. Seasonings can give a new touch too — thyme, basil, chili powder. Prepare the pot-roast without vegetables and serve with potato pancakes, with Spanish rice or with noodles sprinkled with parsley.

COLORFUL garnishes also set off your meat dish. Let your dinner vegetables serve as a garnish — green pepper cups filled with whole kernel corn, cheese topped broiled tomato halves, big baked potatoes, split and filled with butter or twice-baked potatoes, oven browned potatoes or French fries. Fall fruits such as apples and pears can be worked into your menu. You might fill the cavities with jelly or mince-then braise the same as a Swiss meat.

YOUR TURKEY AND HOW TO ROAST IT

Largest Crop to Choose From This Year, So
Get the Best!

FIVE CLASSIFICATIONS GIVE A WIDE CHOICE

This year of 1953 brings the homemaker the largest crop of turkeys on record. So let's talk turkey.

It's the biggest array ever from which to choose your traditional Thanksgiving bird... but which one should you buy? A tom, a hen or a small turkey?

Here are the salient points you should know.

TURKEYS are divided into five classifications, based on age and sex.

The "meal or family" (fryer or roaster) turkey is a new variety; young, 2 to 4 months in age; tender; usually weighs from 4 to 8 pounds ready-to-cook weight. Cookery methods: Broil, fry or roast.

Young toms are male turkeys under 8 months in age, popular consumer size 12 to 35 pounds. Cookery methods: Broil, braise, roast, fricassee or fry.

Young hens are female turkeys under 8 months in age, popular consumer size 8 to 18 pounds. Cookery methods: Broil, braise, roast, fricassee or fry.

Tom (mature) turkeys are males over 8 months in age. Cookery methods: Simmer, fricassee or braise.

Mature tom turkeys can be roasted if the pan is covered three quarters of the time, however this steaming will not produce the same flavor as when roasting a young bird in an uncovered pan.

Hen (mature) turkeys are females over 8 months in age. Cookery methods: Simmer, fricassee or braise. May also be roasted following same suggestion as for mature toms.

There are three styles of turkey available.

READY-TO-COOK (also known as eviscerated or full drawn) may be fresh or quick-frozen. They are cleaned and fully drawn, ready for the oven.

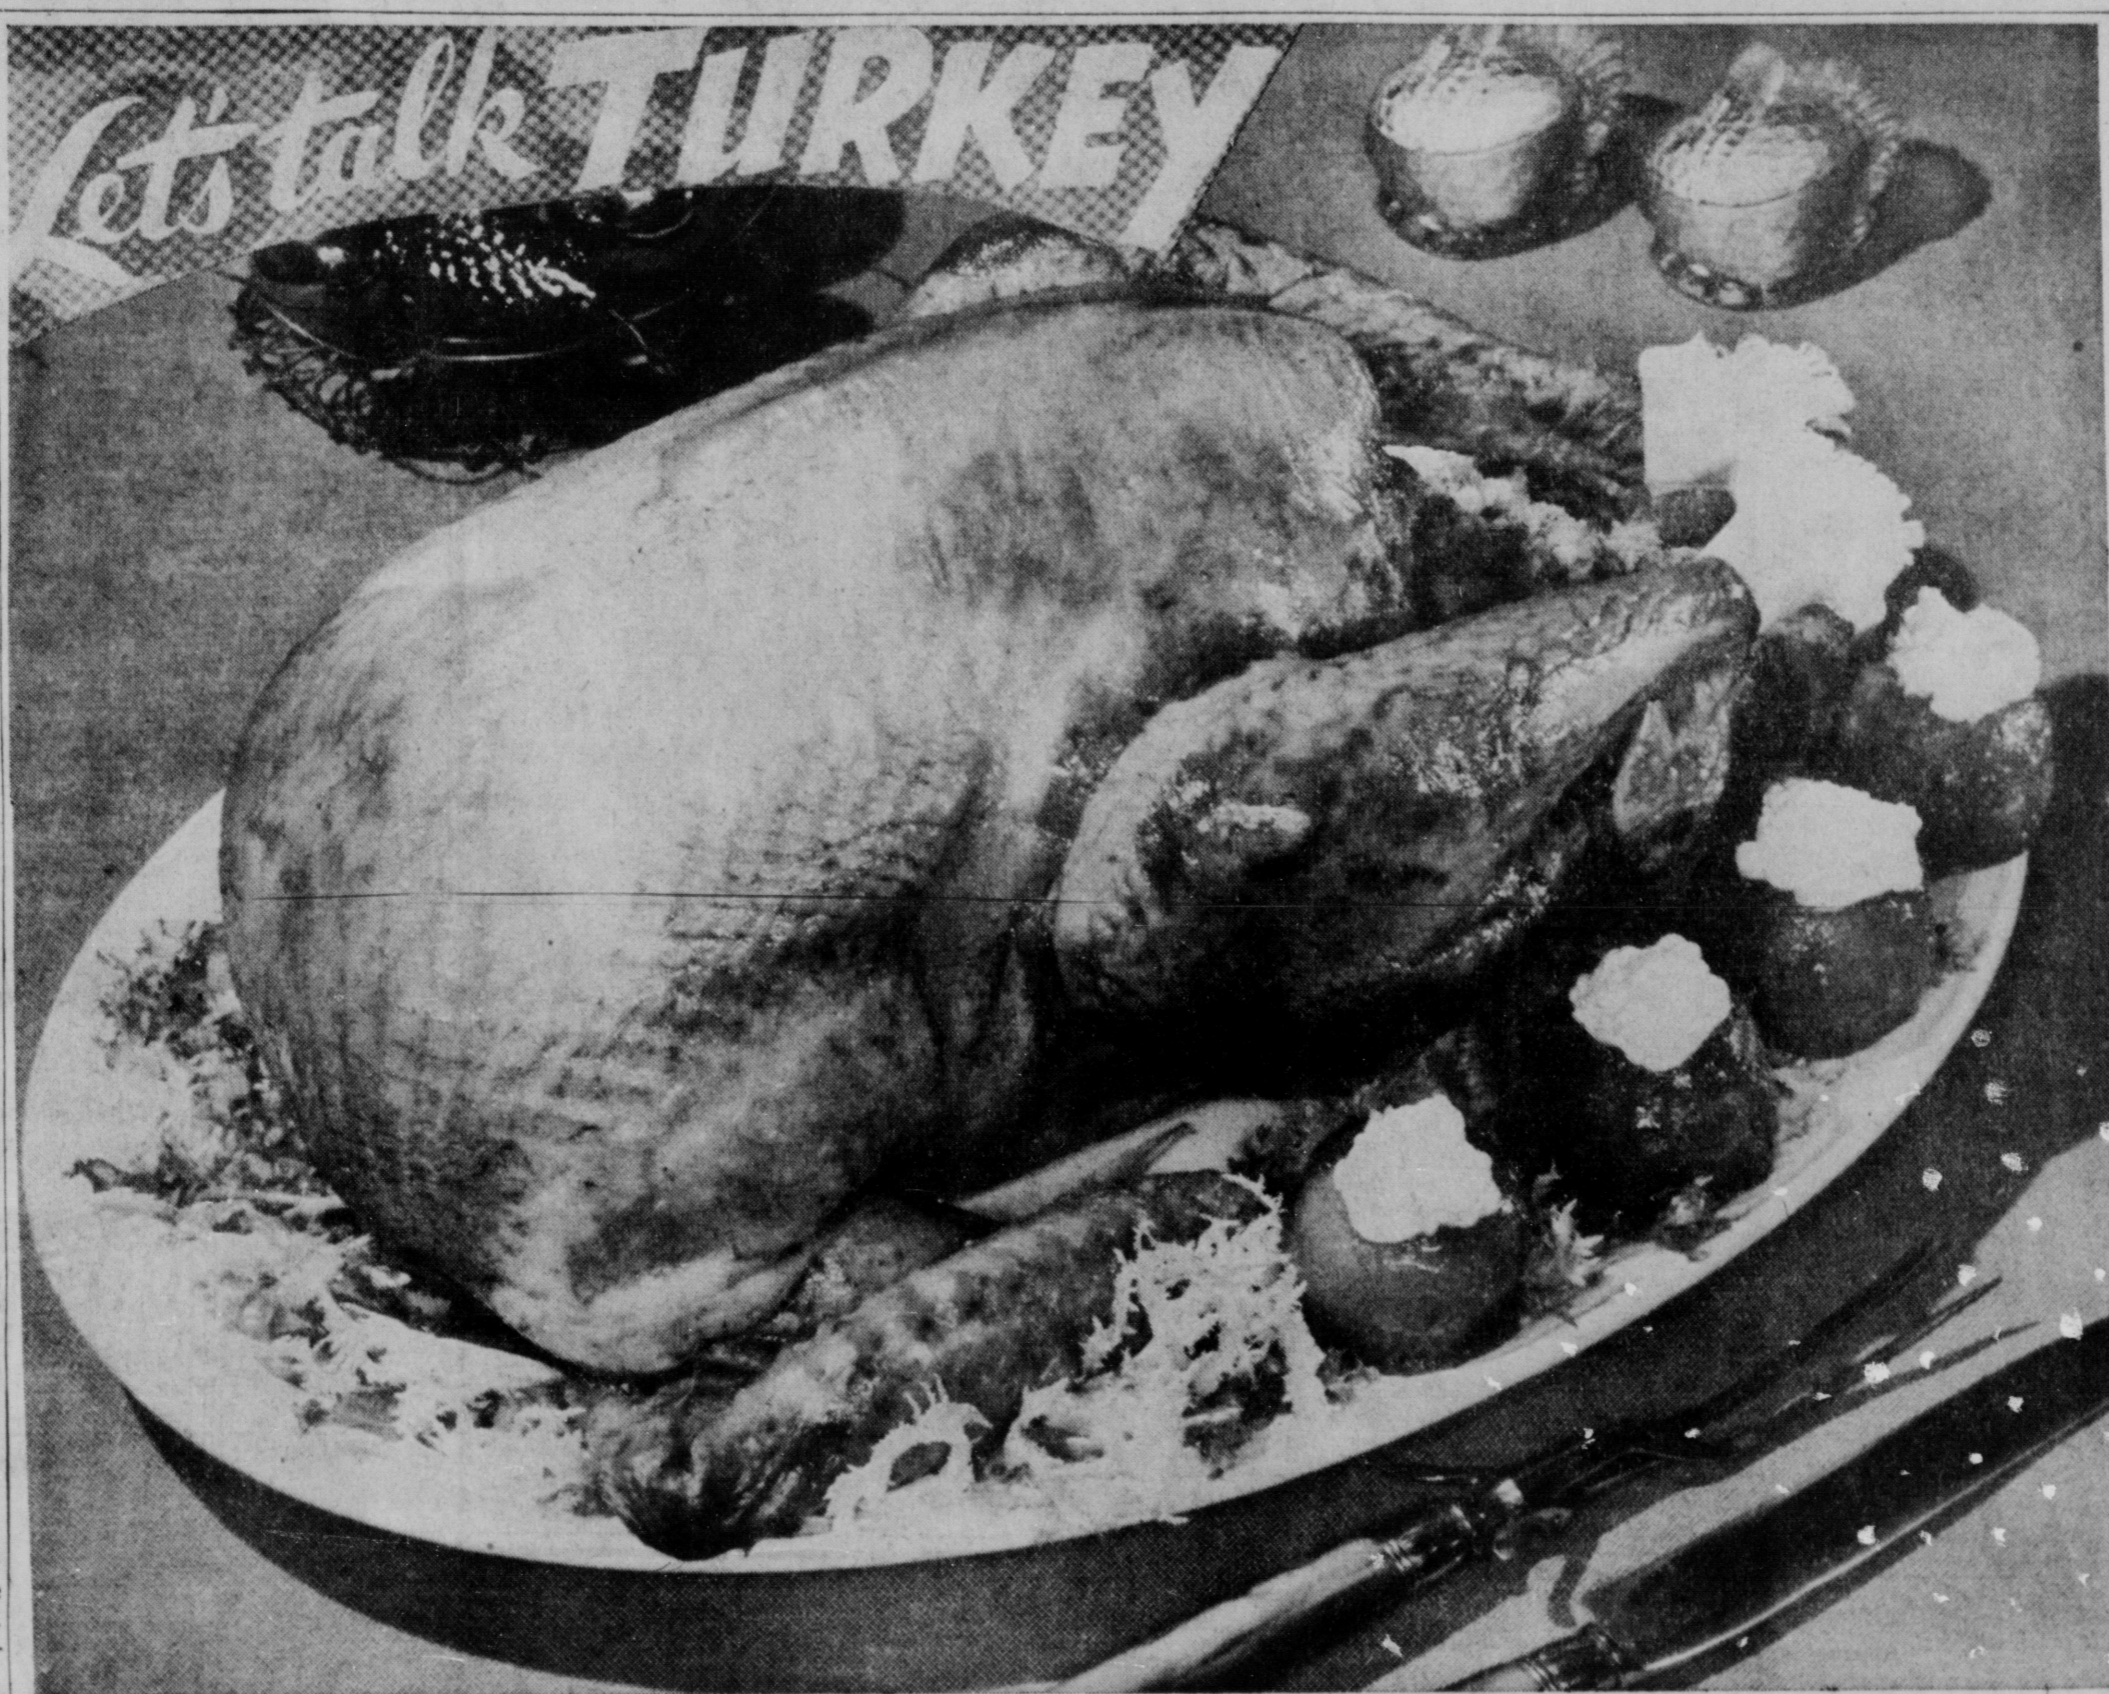

Dressed turkeys (formerly known as New York dressed) have been plucked but not drawn. Head and feet are on.

Cut-up turkey is cut in half (split lengthwise in quarters or into individual pieces — legs, breast, back, wings, neck and giblets). Individual turkey pieces are available in some markets. Retailers usually will cut a turkey in half.

What size turkey do you need? If your requirements can be met with 4 to 8 pounds choose the "small or family" turkey or a half or quarter of a young hen or tom, says the Poultry and Egg National Board.

If your requirements are in the 8 to 15 pound range a young hen turkey, they say, will usually be your best choice. As a rule hen turkeys are better finished at this weight than are toms.

If your requirements are in the 16 to 25 pound range, they recommend a young tom turkey as usually the best choice. Toms are at their best at this weight and the wisest choice for a large turkey.

Two easy tests to determine doneness are: Pinch the fleshy part of the drumstick between fingers. The meat should feel very soft. Or, move the drumstick up and down. The leg should move easily or the joint should break.

Roast Turkey With Cinnamon Apples Combines 2 Favorites

Here is a time-honored favorite, cinnamon apples, garnishing a perfect roast turkey. Cinnamon apples are not only a "pretty-to-see" garnish but a "wonderful-to-eat" accompaniment to roast turkey. The hollow centers of the apples may be filled with cream cheese. In the photograph the apples are shown topped with a cream cheese rosette. The cinnamon apples will simplify the menu and service by doubling for a salad and the fruit pickles that are often a part of this traditional meal.

For one festive dinner why not serve a generous pork loin roast? It will make such a gay appearance on the table. For a clever touch, strip the meat from the rib bones and top each bone with a tiny paper frill.

ROASTING meat takes little of your attention. You can place the roast in a 350 degree F. oven and forget about it until near serving time. The modern way to roast meat is as follows: Place the meat fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not cover and do not add water to the pan.

If you have a roast meat thermometer be sure to use it. This eliminates guesswork. Inserted in the center of thickest section, but not on bone or in fat, the thermometer will indicate when the roast has reached the degree of doneness you desire. You can plan on 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a center cut roast, 45 to 50 minutes per pound for an end roast. Let the roast stand in a warm place for 15 to 20 minutes after it comes from the oven to make carving easier.

If Menu Becomes Monotonous Here's Way to Add Variety

If you're at the point where you're serving identical meals week after week, now is the time for a change. Monotony takes the fun out of cooking. There's likely to be a sign of slackened enthusiasm at mealtime on the part of your family.

It's easy to incorporate variety in your menus, says Reba Staggs, home economist. For instance, she suggests you follow some of your old favorite recipes, but simply add new cooking liquids or seasonings, new garnishes. Each of these can give a grand new touch to your meat dish.

For example, when you buy your steak perhaps you habitually prepare it as a Swiss steak. In addition to onion and tomatoes, you might add green pepper rings to the meat or add olives or mushrooms.

OR YOU might cut the steak into individual servings, top with a bread stuffing and roll. Fasten the rolls with round wooden picks, then braise the same as a Swiss tomatoes as the cooking liquid.

And instead of cooking your pot-roast with the usual stew vegetables, onions, potatoes and carrots, look to new vegetables. Try cauliflower, green pepper rings, squash, okra, sweet potatoes and fruits such as dried apricots, prunes or cranberries. Seasonings can give a new touch too — thyme, basil, chili powder. Prepare the pot-roast without vegetables and serve with potato pancakes, with Spanish rice or with noodles sprinkled with parsley.

COLORFUL garnishes also set off your meat dish. Let your dinner vegetables serve as a garnish — green pepper cups filled with whole kernel corn, cheese topped broiled tomato halves, big baked potatoes, slit and filled with butter or twice-baked potatoes, oven browned potatoes or French fries. Fall fruits such as apples and pears can be worked into your menu. You might fill the cavities with jelly or mince-

BIG SUPPLY OF CHICKENS IS AVAILABLE

Four Classifications Await Housewife for Thanksgiving Center Piece

HOW TO ROAST BIRD IS TOLD BY EXPERTS

Chicken is in plentiful supply (though not quite as many are available this year as last). So let's talk chicken. Chickens are divided into four classifications. A broiler or fryer is a young chicken of either sex, usually ten to 16 weeks of age, with smooth, thin, soft skin; tender-meated, soft flesh; small amount of fat. Cookery methods: Broil or fry. Braising is also a popular method for cooking tender chicken. Chicken cacciatore, smothered chicken, chicken paprika and arroz con pollo are a few of the many dishes in which tender chicken may be used.

A ROASTER is a young chicken, either sex, usually under eight months of age, having the same characteristics as a broiler or fryer, with the exception of fat which is usually slightly greater. Cookery methods: Roast or braising is also a popular method for cooking roaster chickens, such as in chicken cacciatore, smothered chicken, chicken paprika and arroz con pollo.

A CAPON is a young desexed male chicken, usually under ten months of age, but with exceptionally good finish, flavor and tenderness brought about by castrating. It has a large proportion of white meat. This class of chicken is found in only a few markets. Cookery method: Roast. A stewer is a mature female chicken, usually more than ten months of age. It has less tender, firm flesh; thick firm skin; well-developed connective tissue; a layer of fat underneath the skin and a nonflexible breastbone. Cookery method: Braise, stew or similar.

Three styles of chicken are available. Ready-to-cook chicken (eviscerated) is drawn and cleaned ready for cooking. May be fresh or quick-frozen. Dressed chicken (formerly known as New York dressed) has head and feet on. Feathers removed but not drawn. (The market man will usually draw a dressed chicken.) Cut-up chicken is a bird that is halved, quartered or cut into individual pieces.

BUFFET BEEF PIE Next time you're buffet entertaining, serve a hearty beef pie. After the stew has slowly simmered until the meat is tender, pour it into an attractive oven dish or casserole—one that may be served at the table. Top the beef stew with biscuits, then bake in a hot oven until the biscuits are done—12 to 15 minutes. Accompany the beef pie with more biscuits, with a tossed garden salad, apple pie with wedges of cheese and hot coffee.

BRING OUT FLAVOR Browning is important when braising beef steak. This helps to bring out the flavor of the meat so do it thoroughly. Then add a small amount of the liquid desired. In addition to tomatoes for Swiss steak, place an onion slice on each piece of steak and include one or two bay leaves. If you want a Creole flavor, add green pepper rings along with the tomatoes and onions. Cover and cook slowly about 2 hours or until tender.

SET FOR CARVING When dad gets ready to carve the dinner roast make sure that he has plenty of space in which to work. See that water glasses, vegetable dishes are not in his way. Place the meat platter directly in back of the dinner plates. If your platter is not several inches larger than the roast, then it's wise to have a second hot platter on which he can place the carved slices of meat.

ROAST DUCK MAKES FINE HOLIDAY MEAL

Supplies Are Ample; Goose
Offers a Substitute
For Thanksgiving

FRESH BIRDS AROUND, SOME QUICK FROZEN

Supplies of ducklings are ample.
About a quarter again as many pounds are available this year as last.

So let's talk duckling.
Some fresh birds will be found
but most of the available supply is quick-frozen. In size they usually vary from 3 1/2 to 5 pounds.
Cookery methods: Roast, fry,
broil or barbecue.

TO ROAST a duckling:
Stuff or not as preferred. Close opening with skewers and cord.
No further trussing is needed.
Place on a rack breast down, in a slow oven (325 degrees F.).

Turn breast up after 1 hour.
Allow about 35 minutes per pound ready-to-cook weight.
Roast until done . . . drumstick
meat feels very soft when pressed between the fingers, also drum-
stick socket moves easily.

CHILI SERVING
Chili con carne makes a grand treat for a Saturday night supper.
For a change serve chili with potato chips or with hot corn bread.
Or serve the chili on a bed of rice
or on or combined with macaroni.

Goose: Its Basic Buying And Cooking Information

Goose is available in two classes:
(1) Young goose. A young goose
may be of either sex, is tender, meated, and has a wind pipe that is easily dented. (2) Mature goose.
A mature goose may be of either sex and has toughened flesh and a hardened wind pipe.

Goose is available in two styles:
(1) Ready - to - cook - available either fresh or quick-frozen and is fully drawn and completely ready for cooking. (2) Dressed which means that the bird is not drawn,
head and feet are on, and only the feathers have been removed.
The common or popular consumer sizes of goose are 8 to 12

pounds, ready - to - cook weight.
About 1 to 1 1/2 pounds ready-to-cook weight per serving should be allowed in figuring size or quantity
to buy.

The preparation of goose is no
different than that of other poultry, rinsing the cavity, washing the outside, and removing any pin feathers. Trussing is simple since the shape and structure of the goose
are such that neither wings nor the drumsticks require skewering or tying down. If desired, the abdominal opening may be closed loosely with cord and skewers.
Goose may be stuffed or not as desired. If stuffing is used, those generous with celery or onion, and apple, prune and cranberry stuffing are among the favorites. Some-

Supplies Are Ample; Goose
Offers a Substitute
For Thanksgiving

FRESH BIRDS AROUND, SOME QUICK FROZEN

Supplies of ducklings are ample.
About a quarter again as many pounds are available this year as last.

So let's talk duckling.
Some fresh birds will be found
but most of the available supply is quick-frozen. In size they usually vary from 3½ to 5 pounds.

Cookery methods: Roast, fry,
broil or barbecue.

TO ROAST a duckling:
Stuff or not as preferred. Close opening with skewers and cord.
No further trussing is needed.
Place on a rack breast down, in a slow oven (325 degrees F.).

Turn breast up after 1 hour.
Allow about 35 minutes per pound ready-to-cook weight.

Roast until done . . . drumstick
meat feels very soft when pressed between the fingers, also drum-
stick socket moves easily.

CHILI SERVING

Chili con carne makes a grand
treat for a Saturday night supper.
For a change serve chili with potato chips or with hot corn bread.
Or serve the chili on a bed of rice
or on or combined with macaroni.

Goose: Its Basic Buying And Cooking Information

Goose is available in two classes:
(1) Young goose. A young goose
may be of either sex, is tender,
meated, and has a wind pipe that
is easily dented. (2) Mature goose.
A mature goose may be of either sex and has toughened flesh and
a hardened wind pipe.

Goose is available in two styles:
(1) Ready-to-cook — available
either fresh or quick-frozen and is fully drawn and completely ready
for cooking. (2) Dressed which means that the bird is not drawn,
head and feet are on, and only the
feathers have been removed.

The common or popular consumer sizes of goose are 8 to 12
pounds, ready-to-cook weight.

About 1 to 1½ pounds ready-to-cook
weight per serving should be allowed in figuring size or quantity
to buy.

The preparation of goose is no
different than that of other poultry,
rinsing the cavity, washing the outside, and removing any pin feathers. Trussing is simple since the shape and structure of the goose
are such that neither wings nor
the drumsticks require skewering
or tying down. If desired, the abdominal opening may be closed
loosely with cord and skewers.

Goose may be stuffed or not as desired. If stuffing is used, those generous with celery or onion, and

apple, prune and cranberry stuffing are among the favorites. Some-

HILL SCHOOL GRIDDERS
GAIN "UNBEATEN" MEMORY

To a football coach, an undefeated season is comparable to getting an unexpected Cadillac for Christmas. Actually it's a bigger thrill because the series of victories that lead up to the final whistle leave the coach with something he'll never forget.

The Caddy will eventually become just an old model and its shine and splendor soon forgotten as a new Lincoln takes its place. But that unbeaten season will become a page in the coach's life that will live as long as his friends and followers can talk football.

Plenty of good coaches go a long time before they experience that greatest of all experiences. Some never get the material, others never get the breaks.

The Blues were not an outstanding team that pulverized every opponent. On some occasions they had just enough to win. Against Lawrenceville school in the final game the Hill gridders didn't have quite enough to win but they refused to be defeated—thus they preserved the non-losing record for their new coach.

BISSELL WASN'T a new comer to the Hill campus having long been associated with the school as Jack Riley's assistant and as head wrestling coach. When Riley was stricken with a heart attack last Fall, Bissell was named to replace him and it turned out to be a wise and happy choice.

Probably the greatest tribute to his success is that he won with a team that lacked the "great" stamp. For the first four games he shuffled his players around until near the end of the season the cream floated to the top.

Led by Captain Pete Jones the team had that most important prerequisite for victory—spirit. They opened the season by squeezing by Perkiomen school, 7-6. Against Woodberry Forest the following week they improved to win, 13-7.

Williamson Trade was no match, 31-0, as the mold was beginning to set. Mercersburg offered a real test but again the Hillers were up to it with a 7-0 triumph.

Dave Reidenouer was gradually moving into the picture as he learned football all over again, not having competed in the grid sport since his Junior High days. He showed up well in the 25-0 win over PMC Prep, and then was outstanding in the 27-20 victory over Blair.

With Reidenouer running the team so capably the Hill stood a good chance of bumping off its ancient and undefeated rival, Lawrenceville. By halftime the Blues were trailing and Reidenouer was sidelined with a leg injury after efficiently directing the squad through the first half.

THAT BROUGHT Steve Pyle back into the picture and he displayed the same kind of football that won him the starting signal calling job at the beginning of the season. He passed and guided the team to a pair of third quarter touchdowns and the Hillers were right back in the ball game.

When things looked dark, after Lawrenceville went ahead by seven points again, Bissell sent Ken Merlin in at quarterback. Several times he had said that Reidenouer, Pyle and Merlin were all so close, regarding ability, that he was undecided whom to use.

It's apparent he used them in the right order at Lawrenceville. Merlin drove the final five yards for the touchdown that left his team trailing by one point. End Dave Riordan took care of that matter with a perfect placement, one of the most important boots in the long history of the Hill school.

Bissell and his boys have provided themselves with something money can't buy. At the same time they did not reach the ultimate. Frank can strive for a perfect season, something he missed as a player and now as a coach.

Another area coach, who started at the bottom of the ladder, this past season has moved both himself and his team up a few rungs. Paul Bingham, the young Schwenksville High mentor, tutored his young Bluebirds to a pair of victories, something that had become extinct in recent years at Schwenksville.

WITH A SQUAD that was small in numbers, size and years, Bingham was most optimistic about his team's chances in every game. That bright feeling was passed on to his players and even when they lost they felt they could win the next time out.

At Collegeville, coach Bob Hartman was endowed with a team that possessed enough explosiveness that it was hard to predict their future. Every other week they won a game. Also, every other week they lost.

But even in defeat they were dangerous with one of the speediest backfields in the area. Injuries in the line kept the Cols from being at their best week after week. Bill Yeasle when he kept his mind on playing football instead of making like Jack Dempsey was a threat every time he handled the ball. He proved that in two games this year, both big victories over Wyomissing, 38-25, and Schwenksville, 49-13. He scored a total of 45 points in those two games.

Collegeville's 4-4 record was compiled against sturdy competition and goes down as one of the best seasons on the gridiron for the Cols in recent years.

Coach Al Brown at North Coventry had to settle for an abbreviated schedule and a losing season. His Wildcats were a better team than the record of one win, two ties and two losses would indicate. But with only five games to play, they suffered from a lack of combat activity which was not conducive to winning football.

THE SEASON'S OVER for Tom Newrick, and so are his football days at Schwenksville High school. The 200-pound senior center starred on the defense for the Bluebirds and captained the 1953 team.

5th Win

Trojan JV's Set Mark; Win, 45-0, Over Conshy

By foregoing their potent ground game in the second half in favor of passes, the Pottstown High Trojans jayvees hoped to hold the score down at Conshohocken High yesterday. Instead they set a new Junior varsity record with a 45-0 win.

Operating with only four backs, the charges of Bill McCabe tallied in every quarter to win their fifth game of the season against a lone defeat.

Dave Gillis and Don Keifrider each scored twice, Wilson Bedell, Jim Gibbons and Mike Lunn each once and Dick Groff booted three extra points.

On the second play from scrimmage, Gillis zipped through the line on a dive play and scampered 50 yards for a touchdown. Before the first quarter was over, Bedell intercepted a Conshy pass and returned it 40 yards for a TD.

Two more six-pointers went up on the boards for Pottstown in the second period as Keifrider fought his way free from several tacklers on a 35-yard scoring jaunt, and Gibbons capped a long drive by going over from the one. A 15-yard pass from Gibbons to Osuch set up this touchdown.

In the second half, McCabe ordered his club to stay in the air and by this method of travel the little Trojans found their way to paydirt three more times.

Two of the touchdowns were on Pottstown passes and the other resulted from Gillis' interception of a Conshohocken aerial. He raced it back 30 yards for his second tally.

Later in the third quarter Bedell took a reverse from Gibbons and fired a strike to Lunn who completed the 35-yard play for a tally. Keifrider took a 35-yard aerial from Gibbons for the final touchdown.

THE HILL FIFTHS had to come from behind to defeat the jayvees of Central High from Philadelphia. Ross Gilbert's six-yard plunge gave the local boys an early lead but a pass Richie Kassel to Murray Saitz for 20 yards just before the half ended tied the score for Central. Bill Oxman kicked the point to put the visitors one up at the intermission.

In the third period Gilbert passed 30 yards to Lyman Perry for a touchdown, and in the fourth Larry Walsh gave the Hillers the winning tally on a 30-yard run through the line. A 10-yard pass from Kassel to Saitz accounted for Central's other tally.

Dennis Schafer was the whole show as Boyertown Junior High beat Hill Sixths, 28-0. The 180-pound Schafer, only 14 years old, scored all his teams touchdowns.

The Hill Sixths seconds downed the Boyertown Junior High reserves, 21-6. For Hill, Dick Fryer scored two touchdowns and Ty Porter one. Dick Frey tallied for Boyertown.

Joey Klein Earns Draw With Herman In TV 10 Rounder

BROOKLYN, Nov. 16 (AP)—Joey Klein of New York won a split 10 round decision over Freddie (Babe) Herman of Los Angeles, Calif., tonight at the Eastern Parkway Arena before a crowd of 2000.

Klein weighed 147, Herman 142. Klein, the 13-5 favorite, started slowly but came on fast to win the decision. Referee Barney Felix voted 4-2 but gave Klein the nod on points 6-5. Judge Tony Rossi ruled it 6-4 in favor of the New Yorker while Judge Artie Schwartz saw it 5-4-1 for Herman. The bout was televised in some sections of the country.

Herman, a ring veteran at 24, used long hooking lefts to the head and body and won the early rounds. With hard rights to the head over left hand leads by Klein.

However, in the sixth round Klein began to press the attack with a heavy barrage of rights and lefts to the head and body that slowed up the Californian. Klein suffered a cut left eye and was bleeding from the nose in the sixth but continued to press his advantage.

In the seventh and eighth rounds, Klein concentrated to the body with hard left hooks. Referee Felix warned Herman in the ninth round, for a low blow but the young lightweight could not keep his distance from the faster Klein.

Several high marks were recorded in the Tuesday-Wednesday Ovis circuit. Lou Minninger's 249 game was best in his loop as was Bob Boughter's -637 triple. The Grouse had an outstanding night with scores of 934 and 2760.

On Monday night at the Owls, George Moore flipped a 231 game and shared individual honors with Sleepy Slifer who had 604 for three games. The Lugs, 961, and Wrens, 2682, were the team leaders.

The same George Moore stayed ahead of the pack in the Doehler league with a 183.11 average after the past week's rolling. Bob Berkimer, who leads the second 10 in the average listings with 170.11, won both single and triple pennants with 217 and 599. W. M. First, led by Lou Mack's 560 triple, was the feature team scorer with 907 and 2611. Bill Curry had a tidy 213 game to build a 563 trio. Maintenance holds a narrow one-game edge over W. M. First with a 21-9 record.

AT THE END of the first leg in the Sunday Mixed league at the Arrow alleys, Mrs. Jerry Deitrich reports that the Peas had the best mark, 26-10. The high average winners were Al Weiner, 179, and Lynn Schintine, 133. Miss Schintine had a fine 173 game to cop high women's single and Warren Eschbach took both men's awards with 219 and 549. Barbara Groover was the triple winner among the ladies with 457. Peppers had its best night of the season with both team highs, 811 and 2287.

In addition, the Muhls can depend on the running and passing of Don Stoudt, who had a hand in two of the Muhl's tallies, passing for one and running for the other; and the hard plunging of fullback Roy Geiss. The Muhls now have a 6-2 record for the season.

Bears to Meet Muhls in Battle of Two Powerhouses

The chips will be down for coach Warren Fry's Boyertown Bears tonight when they invade Albright stadium to take on a tough Muhlenberg township team.

Several high marks were recorded in the Tuesday-Wednesday Ovis circuit. Lou Minninger's 249 game was best in his loop as was Bob Boughter's -637 triple. The Grouse had an outstanding night with scores of 934 and 2760.

GAIN "UNBEATEN" MEMORY

To a football coach, an undefeated season is comparable to getting an unexpected Cadillac for Christmas. Actually it's a bigger thrill because the series of victories that lead up to the final whistle leave the coach with something he'll never forget.

The Caddy will eventually become just an old model and its shine and splendor soon forgotten as a new Lincoln takes its place. But that unbeaten season will become a page in the coach's life that will live as long as his friends and followers can talk football.

Plenty of good coaches go a long time before they experience that greatest of all experiences. Some never get the material, others never get the breaks.

Frank Bissell moved into the elite "unbeaten" class in his first year as head coach of the Hill school football team. That is the kind of start every football mentor hopes for, but few achieve.

The Blues were not an outstanding team that pulverized every opponent. On some occasions they had just enough to win. Against Lawrenceville school in the final game the Hill gridders didn't have quite enough to win but they refused to be defeated—thus they preserved the non-losing record for their new coach.

BISSELL WASN'T a new comer to the Hill campus having long been associated with the school as Jack Riley's assistant and as head wrestling coach. When Riley was stricken with a heart attack last Fall, Bissell was named to replace him and it turned out to be a wise and happy choice.

Probably the greatest tribute to his success is that he won with a team that lacked the "great" stamp. For the first four games he shuffled his players around until near the end of the season the cream floated to the top.

Led by Captain Pete Jones the team had that most important prerequisite for victory—spirit. They opened the season by squeezing by Perkiomen school, 7-6. Against Woodberry Forest the following week they improved to win, 13-7.

Williamson Trade was no match, 31-0, as the mold was beginning to set. Mercersburg offered a real test but again the Hillers were up to it with a 7-0 triumph.

Dave Reidenouer was gradually moving into the picture as he learned football all over again, not having competed in the grid sport since his Junior High days. He showed up well in the 25-0 win over PMC Prep, and then was outstanding in the 27-20 victory over Blair.

With Reidenouer running the team so capably the Hill stood a good chance of bumping off its ancient and undefeated rival, Lawrenceville. By halftime the Blues were trailing and Reidenouer was sidelined with a leg injury after efficiently directing the squad through the first half.

THAT BROUGHT Steve Pyle back into the picture and he displayed the same kind of football that won him the starting signal calling job at the beginning of the season. He passed and guided the team to a pair of third quarter touchdowns and the Hillers were right back in the ball game.

When things looked dark, after Lawrenceville went ahead by seven points again, Bissell sent Ken Merlin in at quarterback. Several times he had said that Reidenouer, Pyle and Merlin were all so close, regarding ability, that he was undecided whom to use.

It appeared he used them in the right order at Lawrenceville. Merlin drove the final five yards for the touchdown that left his team trailing by one point. End Dave Riordan took care of that matter with a perfect placement, one of the most important boots in the long history of the Hill school.

Bissell and his boys have provided themselves with something money can't buy. At the same time they did not reach the ultimate. Frank can strive for a perfect season, something he missed as a player and now as a coach.

Another area coach, who started at the bottom of the ladder, this past season has moved both himself and his team up a few rungs. Paul Bingham, the young Schwenksville High mentor tutored his young Bluebirds to a pair of victories, something that had become extinct in recent years at Schwenksville.

WITH A SQUAD that was small in numbers, size and years, Bingham was most optimistic about his team's chances in every game. That bright feeling was passed on to his players and even when they lost they felt they could win the next time out.

With several youngsters like Ted Kerschner returning again next year the Bingham Bluebirds may keep climbing that ladder.

At Collegeville, coach Bob Hartman was endowed with a team that possessed enough explosiveness that it was hard to predict their future. Every other week they won a game. Also, every other week they lost.

But even in defeat they were dangerous with one of the speediest backfields in the area. Injuries in the line kept the Colts from being at their best week after week. Bill Yeagle when he kept his mind on playing football instead of making like Jack Dempsey was a threat every time he handled the ball. He proved that in two games this year, both big victories over Wyomissing, 38-25, and Schwenksville, 49-13. He scored a total of 45 points in those two games.

Collegeville's 4-4 record was compiled against sturdy competition and goes down as one of the best seasons on the gridiron for the Colts in recent years.

Coach Al Brown at North Coventry had to settle for an abbreviated schedule and a losing season. His Wildcats were a better team than the record of one win, two ties and two losses would indicate. But with only five games to play, they suffered from a lack of combat activity which was not conducive to winning football.

Trojan JV's Set Mark; Win, 45-0, Over Conshy

By foregoing their potent ground game in the second half in favor of passes, the Pottstown High Trojan JVs hoped to hold the score down at Conshohocken High yesterday. Instead they set a new Junior varsity record with a 45-0 win.

Operating with only four backs, the charges of Bill McCabe tallied in every quarter to win their fifth game of the season against a lone defeat.

Dave Gillis and Don Keifridger each scored twice, Wilson Bedell, Jim Gibbons and Mike Lunn each once and Dick Groff booted three extra points.

On the second play from scrimmage, Gillis zipped through the line on a dive play and scampered 50 yards for a touchdown. Before the first quarter was over, Bedell intercepted a Conshy pass and returned it 40 yards for a TD.

Two more six-pointers went up on the boards for Pottstown in the second period as Keifridger fought his way free from several tacklers on a 35-yard scoring jaunt, and Gibbons capped a long drive by going over from the one. A 15-yard pass from Gibbons to Oshu set up this touchdown.

In the second half, McCabe ordered his club to stay in the air and by this method of travel the little Trojans found their way to paydirt three more times.

Two of the touchdowns were on Pottstown passes and the other resulted from Gillis' interception of a Conshohocken aerial. He raced it back 30 yards for his second tally.

Later in the third quarter Bedell took a reverse from Gibbons and fired a strike to Lunn who completed the 35-yard play for a tally. Keifridger took a 35-yard aerial from Gibbons for the final touchdown.

Hill Form Teams Win 3, Lose 1 as Thirds Go Unbeaten

The Hill school form teams were hard at work yesterday afternoon at Far fields as they entertained four visiting teams, beating three of them and losing to one.

The big victory of the afternoon was the Hill Thirds 13-0 win over Stevens Trade junior varsity. It was the Thirds seventh straight win as they completed their season undefeated.

Steve Feinstein opened the scoring for the Thirds in the first period as he raced 15 yards for a touchdown after taking a pitchout from Nick Knerr. A 40-yard pass from Knerr to Pottstown's Bob Neff set up the tally.

Near the end of the third quarter the Hill scoring machine wormed up again on the Stevens 40. A Knerr to Neff pass moved the ball to the losers 18, and then Knerr ran to the one on the first play of the last quarter. It took the Hillers three more plays to crack the Stevens defense but finally Knerr went to the air and hit Neff for a TD. Feinstein went around end for the extra point.

THE HILL FIFTHS had to come from behind to defeat the jayvees of Central High from Philadelphia. Ross Gilbert's six-yard plunge gave the local boys an early lead but a pass Richie Kassel to Murray Saitz for 20 yards just before the half ended tied the score for Central. Bill Oxman kicked the point to put the visitors one up at the intermission.

In the third period Gilbert passed 30 yards to Lyman Perry for a touchdown, and in the fourth Larry Walsh gave the Hillers the winning tally on a 30-yard run through the line. A 10-yard pass from Kassel to Saitz accounted for Central's other tally.

Dennis Schafer was the whole show as Boyertown Junior High beat Hill Sixths, 28-0. The 180-pound Schafer, only 14 years old, scored all his teams touchdowns. The Hill Sixth seconds downed the Boyertown Junior High reserves, 21-6. For Hill, Dick Fryer scored two touchdowns and Ty Porter one. Dick Frey tallied for Boyertown.

Alabama downed Georgia Tech, Wisconsin swamped Illinois and Army edged Penn the past Saturday. And between the three of them, they knocked the living daylight out of the majority of the entrant's picks in the Mercury Football Forecasters contest.

The best anyone was able to do was call seven right, and that's exactly what eight of the 100 entries did. The call went to Robert Beekley, Pottstown, who missed all three of the upsets, but figured Vanderbilt to take Tulane by 21-7. Vandy obliged, and so Beekley, for calling the exact score, gets

BROOKLYN, Nov. 16 (P)—Joey Klein of New York won a split 10 round decision over Freddie (Babe) Herman of Los Angeles, Calif., tonight at the Eastern Parkway Arena before a crowd of 2000.

Klein, the 13-5 favorite, started slowly but came on fast to win the decision. Referee Barney Felix voted 4-4 but gave Klein the nod on points 6-5. Judge Tony Rossi ruled it 6-4 in favor of the New Yorker while Judge Arlie Schwartz saw it 5-4-1 for Herman. The bout was televised in some sections of the country.

Herman, a ring veteran at 24, used long hooking lefts to the head and body and won the early rounds. With hard rights to the head over left hand leads by Klein.

However, in the sixth round Klein began to press the attack with a heavy barrage of rights and lefts to the head and body that slowed up the Californian. Klein suffered a cut left eye and was bleeding from the nose in the sixth but continued to press his advantage.

In the seventh and eighth rounds Klein concentrated to the body with hard left hooks. Referee Felix warned Herman in the ninth round for a low blow but the young lightweight could not keep his distance from the faster Klein.

25 Bears Shot On Opening Day
HARRISBURG, Nov. 16 (P)—More than 25 bears were taken by Pennsylvania hunters today in the first 10 hours of the 1953 big game season.

Preliminary unofficial reports on the first day's kill were insufficient to allow a comparison with last season.

The big game area of Potter county recorded at least 22 kills with the game supply and pressure varying in three sections of the county. However, weather conditions were ideal with good visibility and a lot of snow in the woods for tracking.

Three other early kills were reported in Lycoming county, two more near Oil City and another in Tioga county near Wellsboro.

The biggest bear of the day, weighing 300 pounds was taken by Willis Whitting of Oil City in the Salmon Creek area. John Santa, of Charleroi, hunting in Potter county, bagged one that weighed between 275 and 300 pounds.

In many of the bowling leagues around Pottstown the contest for first place is red hot, but in the West End Firemen's loop the Hooks have jumped into a big lead. After the first 36 games, the Hooks have been beaten only six times.

They continued their assault last Monday with a 921 game, one of the best in town last week. The team triple went to the Masks, 2608. Steve Zezenski continued his hard hitting with a 226 high single and Francis Kalls took the triple prize with 580. Joe Surman held his average lead with 183.

In the Friday night section of the West End loop the second place Adapters captured the team single with 787. Bells walked off with triple honors on its 2389 total. Dave Biehl hit an even 200 game and Doug Ludwig helped his league, leading 181 average with a 566 set.

Coaches Want to Standardize Rules Regarding Substitutions in Football

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Coach Owen of the New York Giants and Coach Harvey Harman of Rutgers university appealed today for standardization of football rules among pros, colleges and high schools.

"I would like to see colleges and high schools play under the same set of standards," Harman told the New York football writers at their weekly luncheon.

"In high school a boy today plays under one set of rules and when he goes to college he has to do something entirely different. Since the colleges ultimately get the high school boys, they should see to it that the rules are made to conform."

Owen got off his feet a few minutes later and said he'd like to see the action taken further to include the pros.

"THE COLLEGE players wind up as pros in many instances," he said. "Why don't we have one set of standards for everybody?"

At the present moment high schools and the pros have similar rules with unlimited substitution and the two platoon system. In between, the colleges have limited substitution.

So a boy in high school learns specialized football under the platoon system calling for defensive and offensive units. When he goes

Michigan State In Good Graces Of Conference

CHICAGO, Nov. 16 (AP)—The majority of Big Ten athletic directors indicated today that Michigan State's probation will not influence their vote for the conference's representative in the Rose Bowl.

An Associated Press survey showed that generally the directors will vote strictly for the football team they think is the Big Ten's best and can make the finest showing against the Pacific Coast conference entry at Pasadena next New Year's Day. They will not get involved in other factors.

If Illinois defeats Northwestern Saturday it will share the title with Michigan State, each with 5-1 records. Wisconsin also can become a co-champion by beating Minnesota but is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl.

THE SPARTANS ended their conference campaign with a 14-6 victory over Michigan last week. They finish their regular season against Michigan State Saturday and a victory would give them an overall mark of 8-1, their only loss in a 33-game stretch being 6-0 to Purdue.

An Illinois triumph would give the Illini an all-game record of one tie (21-21 to Nebraska), seven victories and one defeat, a 3-4-1 wallowing by Wisconsin Saturday.

Thus, potentially, athletic directors will be voting for either Illinois or Michigan State.

There was evidence of some feeling in the conference that Michigan State's probation would reflect unfavorably in the vote. But this was all but dispelled today.

Plenty of Good Players on Draft List May Be Back in Major's Next Season

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Anybody want to purchase the Pacific Coast league batting champion for only $15,000? A former big league 20-game winner for $10,000? A no-hit hurler for the same fee? Or an ex-$50,000 bonus player for $7500?

These and many others can be acquired at the annual major league draft on Nov. 30 in Atlanta. The draft list, compiled and issued by the commissioner's office, contains some 1500 minor league players to choose from. Some old, some young. Some may be bargains, some busts. All are a gamble.

Last year, for instance, 11 players were drafted at a cost of $120,000—a slim total by comparison. Only six managed to last out the season and none distinguished himself to any great degree.

First call goes to the American League's newest entry—the Baltimore Orioles—by virtue of the switched—St. Louis Browns'—last place finish in 1953. Next comes Pittsburgh, the National league cellarites, and so on through to the world champion New York Yankees, No. 15 and the National league pennant winning Brooklyn Dodgers, 16th and last.

THE PIRATES, who had first call last year, chose pitcher Elroy Face, as their first selection and picked two more pitchers, Bob Hall and John Hetki. All managed to stick.

This year's crop includes such familiar names as Bob Dillinger, Clint Hartung, Gene Bearden, Don Kolloway, George Munger, Randy Gumpert, Howard Fox, Bobo Holloman, Allie Clark, George Wilson and Dick Sisler.

The list includes a number of good "new faces," too. As usual, Montreal and St. Paul, Brooklyn's triple A farm clubs, are loaded with promising hotshots. Under the rules, only one from each club can be drafted, unless the player is designated as subject to unrestricted draft. On Montreal's roster, for instance, there are such eligibles as pitchers Ronnie Lee and Johnny Rutherford, touted only a year ago as ready for the Dodgers. Then there are such promising youngsters as

Glenn Gorbous, who batted .333 at Pueblo; Oddie Hamric, who hit 18 homers and drove in 83 runs at Mobile; Ray Shearer, who batted .306 with 12 homers and 84 runs at Mobile; and Carroll Beringer, who won seven and lost two, striking out 61 batters in 91 innings at Fort Worth.

The St. Paul roster lists outfielder Ray Coleman, Jack Cassini, a .324 hitting infielder; pitchers Bob Alexander, Bill Darden and Dan Stupor. The latter had a 10-5 record at Fort Worth. Bill Kerr, a .320 hitting outfielder with Mobile, also is on the St. Paul roster.

Dillinger, former third base star with the Browns, may be worth a gamble. The bespectacled Sacramento veteran led the Pacific Coast league with a .366 mark in 171 games. He can be had for $15,000, the open classification

SPLIT-T UNPOPULAR AMONG PRO COACHES

BALTIMORE, Nov. 16 (AP)—Today it's the Baltimore Colts who have lost their quarterback in a season which has been unusually rough on the National Football League T-men.

One of the reasons advanced by pro football coaches for not using the split-T which has become so popular and successful among the colleges is that it's too dangerous for the quarterback on the option run and lateral play.

The T quarterbacks have become hospital cases with regularly in the pro league although they're supposed only to pass and make quick handoffs.

Fred Enke of the Colts received a shoulder separation yesterday against the Philadelphia Eagles and may play no more this season.

Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns was chopped up against the San Francisco 49ers. They put 15 stitches in his face and sent him out to finish the game with a wire mask.

A month ago, Y. A. Tittle of the 49ers received a triple fracture of the cheekbone and is back wearing a mask. Arnold Gifford of the New York Giants was carried off the field a week ago against Philadelphia with an injury similar to Enke's.

The Eagles' own quarterback, Adrian Burk, is sidelined with a shoulder injury also and so is the Chicago Cardinals' Steve Romanik. The Pittsburgh quarterback, Jim Finks, and Washington's Eddie LeBaron, have been hurt at one time or another. Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland's undefeated split-T college team always has disagreed with the argument it's too dangerous for the pros.

The loss of Enke leaves the Colts without a quarterback except in name for its last four games. Jack Del Bello, a rookie castoff from the Eagles, was so futile as Enke's substitute yesterday that the Colts tried using him for a double wing. Del Bello didn't satisfy coach Keith Molesworth that way either and the Colts wound up with George Taliaferro, a halfback, taking the long pass from center and just throwing it.

(Pacific Coast league). Other PCL eligibles include Dino Restelli (.340 at Portland), Dixie Upright (.306 at Los Angeles), Fred Richards (26 homers at Los Angeles), and pitcher Royce Lint (22-10) at Portland.

SIXTY-FIVE PCL players are immune to the draft, having signed non-selective clauses.

Gene Bearden, whose 20 victories enabled the Cleveland Indians to win the 1948 American league flag, can be purchased from Charleston of the American association for $10,000. Third baseman Rance Pless, who led the Southern association in hitting in 1952 and batted .322 at Minneapolis this season, can also be had for $10,000. So can Minneapolis' Clint Hartung, the former Giant phenom; George Wilson, who slammed 34 homers at Minneapolis; Mo Mozall of Columbus and Luis Marquez of Toledo.

Bobo Holloman, who hurled a no-hitter in his first major league start with the Browns in 1953, can be had from Toronto for $10,000. So can Allie Clark and Wally Moon of Rochester, Virgil Stallcup of Columbus, Johnny Kucab and Harry Schaeffer of Kansas City, Dave Madison of Buffalo, Kent Peterson of Syracuse and many others.

Prices range from $15,000 for players in the PCL to $10,000 for players from Triple A leagues; $7500 from Double A clubs, $6000 in Class B, $2500 in Class C and $2000 in Class D.

Pitt Impressed By State Line

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16 (AP)—Scouts for Pitt and Penn State, which meet here Saturday, both issued warnings today about the football prowess of the other.

Ernie Heffeler and Walt Cummins of Pitt said they were impressed by the big line of Penn State and the great passing of quarterback Tony Rados.

Penn State's Al Michaels, who watched the Panthers in four games this season, said:

"They are vastly better than their 3-4-1 record would indicate. We can't give up touchdowns like we have been doing and beat Pitt. Pitt is too strong defensively and far too dangerous offensively for that kind of football."

Sam Green Romps

Pottstown's Sam Green had a big day for Penn State on Saturday as the Nittany Lions trampled Rutgers, 54-26.

The ex-Trojan griddler, now playing guard for the Lions made like the fullback he used to be by intercepting a Rutgers pass and running from his own 25 to the losers two-yard line before being downed. One of State's eight touchdowns followed.

Sam also set up another score when he recovered a Rutgers fumble on the home team's four.
